THEY ARE INDEED CHEERFUL LOSERS

In speaking of the game in this city last Sunday the Stevens Point Journal has the following to say about the matter:

"Considerable credit is due Umpire Bandelin for his assistance in winning the game. Twice he called runners out at first when they did not appear to be by those who sat near that sack. Another drive by Garlie along third base, upon which he got to second, was called a foul ball, although it was easily five feet inside of the line.

"Grand Rapids need not think, however, that we are sore or hard losers, for that is one thing that can not be said of Stevens Point. We take our defeat, which have been few, gracefully and let it go at that. We have defeated them six out of nine and can do it again."

While the Journal may be himself a cheerful loser, it seems that the members of the team are not built on the same lines as may be judged by the following letter which was received by A. P. Mulroy the fore part of the week:

Dear Sir:—As to playing your clubs here this week, the fans here won't stand for it, after the deal they gave us at your town Sunday. It was a pure case of robbery by Umpire Bandelin. It was all framed up before the game to rob us. He admitted himself after the game, down in the Dixon Buffet, that he got even with us. The three hundred fans that journeyed to your town to see a ball game, sure saw that we were robbed all through the game. They all come to me saying they would not uphold the game here if I would play your club again. I could give you the same dose, but I don't want to kill the game, and the fans won't stand for it to have the umpire win the game for us. Some of your own fans admitted we were robbed, so you can see where I am at. You sure will kill the game by having Bandelin win the game for you.

Yours truly,
Mr. Schriber.

Improvements at the Grand.

The management of the Grand Theater have rearranged the interior of that place so as to increase the seating capacity something over a hundred. The floor has been changed so that the stage is toward the entrance and the seats turned about. The picture machine will be in the back end of the building, outside of the main building altogether, and it is considered that the change will make quite an improvement.

Operation at Riverview.

Stanley Peart, a young man about twenty years of age, who resides near Pittsville, was brought to this city and placed in Riverview hospital last week and on Thursday Dr. O. T. Hengen operated upon him, removing an abscess from the pelvis. Since the operation the young man has been getting along all right.

Quite a frost visited this section on Monday night and many of the gardens about the city were touched, although the damage done was not great. On the cranberry marshes mercury went down to 25 in the coldest places, and to 27 as a general thing. No damage is reported to the berries in this vicinity.

Two weeks ago The Tribune printed a front page picture of the late Judge Charles Morton Webb, and the reproduction was so well liked that a number of people have asked for separate prints. In reply to this request we are giving the picture as a supplement to this week's issue, printed on the best paper-calendar book paper.

The Wood County National Bank Charter Extended for Another 20 Years.

—The Wood County National Bank has just received a renewal of its Charter from the United States Government. National Bank charters are granted for periods of twenty years and extended for a similar period—providing the bank making application for an extension is found to be in good condition after a special examination by a Government bank examiner.

The charter of the Wood County National Bank expired August 27th. The special examination of the bank's affairs was made on Friday and Saturday, August 4th and 5th, and the following Thursday a letter was received by the bank officials from the Comptroller of the Currency at Washington, D. C., announcing that the report made by the examiner was found perfectly satisfactory, and that the bank's charter would be extended for the usual period of twenty years.

The renewal certificate was sent from Washington on August 26th, and received at the bank in due time. The Wood County National Bank was opened for business November 1st, 1887, and at the close of the first day's business had deposits of $2,952.68 with resources $22,007.61.

After twenty years of successful banking this institution now has deposits of OVER NINE HUNDRED THOUSAND AND TOTAL RESOURCES OF A MILLION AND A QUARTER DOLLARS.

The first officers and directors elected at the organization meeting of this bank were as follows:—Frank Garrison, President; L. M. Alexander, Vice President and P. J. Wood, Cashier. Directors:—Frank Garrison, L. M. Alexander, T. E. Nash, E. Roselius, and F. J. Wood. A few years later Mr. D. E. Filleo was elected Assistant Cashier, and acted in that capacity until February 1st, 1911, when he voluntarily resigned.

After the death of Mr. Frank Garrison, whose services and splendid business ability had been of great value to the bank, Mr. F. J. Wood was elected to the presidency, and continues to hold that office at the present time.

All of the original directors, with the exception of Mr. Garrison, are members of the Board of Directors today, and under their guidance, with the additional members added to the Board, has this bank enjoyed so prosperous a career.

In August 1906, Mr. Guy O. Babcock was elected cashier to fill the vacancy caused by the promotion of Mr. P. J. Wood to the presidency.

The officers and directors at present are as follows:—F. J. Wood, President; L. M. Alexander, Vice President; Guy O. Babcock, Cashier and Wayne G. Fisher, Asst. Cashier. Directors:—L. M. Alexander, F. J. Wood, T. E. Nash, G. F. Steele, E. Roselius, Jackson C. Kosebusch, J. E. Nash, T. E. Mellen, and Guy O. Babcock.

There are seventy-one stockholders, most of whom are residents of Grand Rapids and Wood County. The bank was originally organized with $60,000.00 paid in Capital. This amount has since been increased to $100,000.00 in addition to which they have a surplus of $100,000.00, every dollar of which has been earned, making it the largest banking institution in Wood County.

They have also paid to the stockholder regular semi-annual dividends from the earnings.

For nearly nineteen years the business of the bank was conducted in its original quarters, which naturally became too small for their rapidly increasing business. At the annual stockholders meeting in January 1909, the directors were authorized to secure plans and erect a new bank building. Work was immediately started, and in May 1911, the Books, Cash and Securities were moved into the new quarters, where business was commenced in the beautiful and commodious new fire-proof building which the bank now occupies.

During these years the officials of this bank have endeavored to serve their patrons fairly and to the best of their ability. It has also been their aim and purpose to aid in the up-building of Grand Rapids and Wood County.

Will Demonstrate Machine. The manufacturers of the Crowe 80 expect to have one of their machines here this week to demonstrate the workings of the car. Mr. Daiga of the Commercial club reports that if they have a good car they will have no trouble in securing plenty of capital in this city. It is not known at the present time what day they will be here.

Three Ball Games. The Green Bay Bows will play here on Sunday and the famous Fox Lake team on Tuesday, and Wednesday, Dodge Bros. battery for Fox Lake.

LOCAL MAN GETS FREE ADVERTISING

Charles W. Minard, who recently purchased the Minard farm in the town of Saratoga, has been receiving more than his share of notice from the Chicago papers since he located in Wood County.

Mr. Minard was formerly principal of one of the ward schools in Chicago, in fact held such a position until the close of the school year. In June Mr. Minard came to Wood County to buy a farm and according to the newspaper reports he failed to tell his wife where he was going. While about somebody telephoned his wife that he had gone away with another woman, and the result was that Mrs. Minard took a dose of carbolic acid from which she subsequently died. It appears that Minard did leave with another woman, who was Mrs. Lytle of Nekoma, who handles real estate and often goes to Chicago and accompanies prospective buyers to this locality and shows them farms which she has for sale.

About a month after his wife's death Minard got married again and moved to the farm that he had purchased in Saratoga. Then the Chicago papers got wind of his whereabouts, the Tribune of that city being especially active in trying to make a sensational story out of nothing. A special writer for the Tribune was sent to this city on Saturday to look the matter up, and he was chuck full of business. He came into the Tribune office and told a long story of the past misadventures of Minard, none of which could be substantiated, however, so as to be used in a newspaper story. He stated to the Tribune man that his specialty was "gun shoot" work and that he was going out to see Minard, and we judged from that that he was going to try to make the ex-school teacher out of about seven years' growth, and that possibly it might result in pistols at three paces. As the Chicago man invited us to go along and assist at the obsequies, we accepted the invitation, figuring on our ability as a sprinter to save the day in case hostilities broke out.

The meeting, however, proved to be a tame one, as Minard refused to answer any of the questions put by the Chicago newspaper man, and he did not seem to be especially scared by the visit either. So the gun show man climbed into his rig and came back to town, none the wiser for his trip of two hundred and fifty miles. When asked what he would do about the matter the Chicago man stated that he would face the story. He said it would never do for him to come clear up here on a job of this kind and then fall down; that he had Minard dead to rights and that he could not squeal no matter what he said about him in the paper. The Chicago man's greatest desire was to secure evidence that Minard had married his present wife before his first wife died, or at least that he had been traveling with her as his wife, in which he entirely failed.

Mr. and Mrs. Minard have been living on their farm for about a month, and they are very comfortably located, having 180 acres of land with a good house and barn and adequate outbuildings. The place is fairly well stocked with cattle, horses and chickens.

We do not know what Mr. Minard's career may have been in Chicago, but it was good enough so that the school board of that city saw fit to keep him in charge of one of their schools for a number of years. If he conducts himself as an ordinary citizen while living in this section it is probable that he will receive ordinary treatment.

Business College Opens Sept. 4th. The next regular session of the Grand Rapids Business College begins on Monday, September 4th, in their fine new building on Grand Avenue. Everything has been put in readiness to accommodate a large number of students, and with their splendid modern building, additional equipment, and improved facilities the college will be even better able than before to prepare young people for successful business life and to fill the best-paying positions.

More calls for graduates are received each year than can be filled, and young people who wish to fit themselves for good positions in a short time and at small expense would do well to arrange with the principal, E. L. Hayward, to enroll as early in the term as possible.

AUTO MAN ARRESTED FOR ABANDONMENT.

Charged with abandoning his wife and child, O. L. Thantok, who ran an automobile shop in this city during the summer months, was arrested last Thursday by an officer from Milwaukee and taken to that city for trial.

Mrs. Thantok and little daughter, with no means of support have been living in Milwaukee with relatives during the past month. The father had a wild life in Grand Rapids.

During Thantok's stay in Grand Rapids he established quite a reputation, moving in and out of three different homes without paying rent for any of them, and spending a great deal of his time with women of questionable character. He came here about four months ago with his wife and child, and rented George Kieper's machine shop for repairing automobiles.

Those who have come in contact with the man speak of him as a worthless dead beat, having no occupation of what it means to tell the truth on any his side. Mr. Kieper stated that the man was a fairly good mechanic, doing an excellent business but that his character and morals were the worst imaginable. According to reports, he spent very little of his money around town and was in the habit of hoarding at the money he had saved up.

In spite of the fact that Thantok made a bold pretense at being a staunch church member, he allowed his invalid wife and little girl to live with barely food and clothing to keep them alive, and finally, discouraged and neglected, the two returned to Milwaukee to be aided by their relatives. Thantok continued to live here in utter disregard of his family until he was finally nabbed by authorities last week.

The detective who came upon him at Milwaukee for Thantok was H. F. Peck who has been with the Milwaukee police for twenty-five years and is a personal friend of John Northington of this city, who worked seventeen years with him. Mr. Peck stated that he was greatly impressed with Grand Rapids and is determined to pay another visit at the nearest opportunity.

Guy Wood and Miss Helen Hayden to be Married Saturday.

On Saturday of this week will take place the marriage of Guy Wood and Miss Helen Hayden, both of whom are well known in Grand Rapids society. The wedding will be at the home of the bride, in Lexington, Kentucky.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Wood, father and mother of the groom, departed Monday for Lexington to be present at the ceremony, accompanied by their nephew, Walter Wood, who will act as best man.

Miss Hayden, who taught two years ago in our public schools, made many friends during her stay here, and Mr. Wood, who is a native of this city, has always been one of Grand Rapids' most popular young men. After their honeymoon the bride and groom will make their home at Elm Claret where the latter is associated with the Tenthred Auto Company.

A Big Crop of Melons.

Frank Whitlock, the melon man has one of the biggest melon patches this year that he has ever had, and has been selling ripe melons from his place for more than a week past. He reports that he has about 20,000 hills of vines, which with ordinary luck will yield him about a hundred thousand melons. The crop has been curtailed somewhat by the cool nights and many melons have burst open on account of the wet weather that has prevailed.

One of the Hamiltons, who is located about two miles from the city, also has a big patch of water and muskmelons this year and has been selling them for some time past and reports a pretty good crop.

The frost on Monday night nipped the tops of the vines to a certain extent, but it is reported did not hurt the melons any.

Falls From Wagon. Pitching head first from the high seat of a heavy farm wagon Saturday afternoon, Rudolph Schroeder, employed by Ham Marks at Fourteen Mile Creek, was quite seriously bruised about the arms and face. He and Mrs. Marks were returning from the grist mill and when they arrived at Rowland's corner the team became frightened at an automobile, jumped over the side, and threw Schroeder to the ground. The injured man was taken to a near by store where his wounds were dressed by Dr. Lucas.

Will Move to Stevens Point. Robert Morse will be retained by Judge Park as court reporter for this circuit. This appointment will necessitate the removal of Mr. Morse, from Grand Rapids to Stevens Point, thus adding to our good citizenship. —Stevens Point Journal.

Mr. Morse has lived in our midst for a number of years, and the many friends that he and his wife have made will be sorry to hear that it is necessary for them to move away. The Grand Rapids band will lose one of its best and most faithful members.

Sale of Household Goods. —As we have been leaving the city in the near future we will sell all of our household furniture, etc., on commencing on the 1st of September. —Leo Feltus.

Held to Court. —Green Hall had his house arrested on a writ of habeas corpus over to the court of appeals.

There are seventy-one stockholders, most of whom are residents of Grand Rapids and Wood County. The bank was originally organized with $50,000.00 paid in capital. This amount has since been increased to $100,000.00 in addition to which they have a surplus of $100,000.00, every dollar of which has been earned, making it the largest banking institution in wood County.

They have also paid to the stockholder regular semi-annual dividends from the earnings.

For nearly nineteen years the business of the bank was conducted in its original quarters, which naturally became too small for their rapidly increasing business. At the annual stockholders meeting in January 1905, the directors were authorized to secure plans and erect a new bank building. Work was immediately started, and in May 1911, the Books, Cash and Securities were moved into the new quarters, where business was commenced in the beautiful and commodious new fire-proof building which the bank now occupies.

During these years the officials of this bank have endeavored to serve their patrons fairly and to the best of their ability. It has also been their aim and purpose to aid in the up-building of Grand Rapids and Wood County.

Will Demonstrate Machine.

The manufacturers of the Crow 30 expect to have one of their machines here this week to demonstrate the workings of the car. Mr. Dargatz of the Commercial club reports that if they have a good car they will have no trouble in securing plenty of capital in this city. It is not known at the present time what day they will be here.

Three Ball Games.

The Green Bay Bowers will play here on Sunday and the famous Fox Lake team on Tuesday, and Wednesday, Dodge Bros. battery for Fox Lake.

Mrs. S. Pellman of Milwaukee is a guest at the home of Mrs. August Niskanen in the town of Randolph this week.

LOCAL MAN GETS FREE ADVERTISING

Charles W. Minard, who recently purchased the Riemann farm in the town of Saratoga, has been receiving more than his share of notices from the Chicago papers since he located in Wood County.

Mr. Minard was formerly principal of one of the ward schools in Chicago, in fact held such a position until the end of the school year. In June Mr. Minard came to Wood County to buy a farm and according to the newspaper reports he failed to tell his wife where he was going. While absent somebody telephoned his wife that he had gone away with another woman, and the result was that Mrs. Minard took a dose of carbolic acid from which she subsequently died. It appears that Minard did leave with another woman, who was Mrs. Lytle of Nekoma, who handles real estate and often goes to Chicago and accompanies prospective buyers to this locality and shows them farms which she has for sale.

About a month after his wife's death Minard got married again and moved to the farm that he had purchased in Saratoga. Then the Chicago papers got wind of his whereabouts, the Tribune of that city being especially active in trying to make a sensational story out of nothing. A special writer for the Tribune was sent to this city on Saturday to look the matter up, and he was checked full of business. He came into the Tribune office and told a long story of the past misdeeds of Minard, none of which could be substantiated, however, so as to be used in a newspaper story. He stated to the Tribune man that his specialty was "gum shoe" work and that he was going out to see Minard, and we judged from what he had to say that he was going to scare the ex-school teacher out of about seven years growth, and that possibly it might result in pistols at three paces. As the Chicago man invited us to go along and assist in the investigation, we accepted the invitation, figuring on our ability as a sprinter to save the day in case hostilities broke out.

The meeting, however, proved to be a tame one, as Minard refused to answer any of the questions put by the Chicago newspaper man, and he did not seem to be especially scared by the visit either. So the gum shoe man climbed into his rig and came back to town, none the wiser for his trip of two hundred and fifty miles. When asked what he would do about the matter the Chicago man stated that he would face the story. He said it would never do for him to come clear up here on a job of this kind and then fall down; that he had Minard dead to rights and that he could not equal so matter what he said about him in the paper. The Chicago man's greatest desire was to secure evidence that Minard had married his present wife before his first wife died, or at least that he had been traveling with her as his wife, in which he entirely failed.

Mr. and Mrs. Minard have been living on their farm for about a month, and they are very comfortably located, having 189 acres of land with a good house and barn and adequate outbuildings. The place is fairly well stocked with cattle, horses and chickens.

We do not know what Mr. Minard's career may have been in Chicago, but it was good enough so that the school board of that city saw fit to keep him in charge of one of their schools for a number of years. If he conducts himself as an ordinary citizen while living in this section it is probable that he will receive ordinary treatment.

Business College Opens Sept. 4th
The next regular session of the Grand Rapids Business College begins on Monday, September 4th, in their new building on Grand Avenue. Everything has been put in readiness to accommodate a large number of students, and with their splendid modern building, additional equipment, and improved facilities the college will be even better able than before to prepare young people for successful business life and to fill the best-paying positions.

More calls for graduates are received each year than can be filled, and young people who wish to fit themselves for good positions in a short time and at small expense would do well to arrange with the principal, E. L. Hayward, to enroll as early in the term as possible.

Death of Jas. L. Gates.
James L. Gates of Milwaukee died very suddenly from heart failure on Friday morning. Deceased was the father of Mrs. Bert McDonald of Lady Smith. Mrs. McDonald was sick at the time of her father's death, but went to Milwaukee to attend the funeral, but was taken worse and had to be taken to the hospital in Milwaukee. The remains of Mr. Gates were interred at Neillville.

Lost Their Infant Girl.
A baby girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. W. L. King on Saturday and the little one died only a few hours later. The remains were interred on Tuesday in Family cemetery, services being held in St. Peter and Paul church. Mrs. King was formerly Miss Lucile Passineau of this city, but has lived at Rockford, Ill., since her marriage.

Flower and Vegetable Show

The first annual Flower and Vegetable Show will be held in the Amusement Hall September 8th and 9th, 1911. This show will be open to all who care to enter a display and prizes will be given for the best exhibits. Exhibits may be entered in the following classes:

CHILDREN
A. Best display of flowers grown from seeds distributed by the school committee of Federation.
B. Best display of vegetables grown from seeds distributed by the school committee of Federation.
C. Best display of flowers from your home garden.
D. Best display of vegetables from home garden.
E. Best display of plants, either singly or in groups.

ADULTS
F. Best display of flowers, cut.
G. Best display of vegetables.
H. Best display of plants, singly or in groups.

These exhibits may be brought to the Amusement Hall any time on Thursday, September 7th. Those bringing out flowers or bouquets must provide a vase or receptacle of some kind for the same. Please bear this in mind.

Look over your gardens and flowers and see what you have to enter. The committee having this matter in charge is anxious to have as large a display as possible.

For additional information telephone Mrs. B. G. Eggeri or Mrs. W. J. Conway.

Tried to Steal a Horse.

Frank Scholick of the town of Randolph was among the callers at the Tribune office on Saturday afternoon. Mr. Scholick reports that some person tried to steal a horse from his father's place on Friday night about 7:30 o'clock. His father's name is Julius Scholick and he resides about three miles from this city.

The man, whoever he was, entered the pasture and catching the horse, started to lead it away. He was seen by Frank who started after him. When the fellow saw that he was pursued he took to the woods and it was rapidly growing dark he made his escape.

Farmers would do well to keep their eyes peeled as the same fellow may try the trick again and a little vigilance may save the price of a horse.

Some Big Vegetables.

Officer James Gibson brought in some large vegetables to the Tribune office on Tuesday morning that he raised in his garden, which are the finest specimens we have seen this year. There are two heads of cabbage, the larger one weighing 19½ pounds, the small one 14 pounds. One stalk of celery weighs 4½ pounds, besides which there are a number of large beets and carrots of more than ordinary size. The vegetables are on exhibition in the window of the Tribune office and have caused considerable comment by those who have seen them. People from the south who visit the city are especially interested and seem surprised that it is possible to raise such large vegetables in this vicinity.

Free School Bags.

The First National Bank has purchased a number of school bags which they are going to give to the students of Grand Rapids and vicinity.

They are a better bag than the bank has ever before given out and will be highly appreciated by the young people.

In order to better accommodate the students and have more time to attend to the distribution the bank will open on Saturday, September 2nd at 8:30 A. M., at which time the first bags will be given out.

A number of coupons are printed in another part of this paper, which are to be cut out, the blanks filled, and presented at the bank in order to receive the bag.

Church Notice.

The pastor of the Congregational church will return from his vacation on Thursday or Friday of this week. Next Sunday the usual services will be held in the church; morning service at 10:30, Sunday school at 12:00, young people's meeting at 8:30. Please note that the Sunday school will meet after the morning service instead of before, as during the summer. All are cordially invited to attend.

Will Move to Stevens Point.
Robert Morse will be retained by Judge Park as court reporter for this circuit. This appointment will necessitate the removal of Mr. Morse, from Grand Rapids to Stevens Point, thus adding to our good citizenship.—Stevens Point Journal.

Mr. Morse has lived in our midst for a number of years, and the many friends that he and his wife have made will be sorry to hear that it is necessary for them to move away. The Grand Rapids band will lose one of its best and most faithful members.

AUTO MAN ARRESTED FOR ABANDONMENT.

Charged with abandoning his wife and child, O. L. Ramstach, who ran an automobile shop in this city during the summer months, was arrested last Thursday by an officer from Milwaukee and taken to that city for trial. Mrs. Ramstach and little daughter, with no means of support have been living in Milwaukee with relatives during the past month, while the father led a wild life in Grand Rapids.

During Ramstach's stay in Grand Rapids he established quite a reputation, moving in and out of three different houses without paying rent for any of them, and spending a great deal of his time with women of questionable character. He came here about four months ago with his wife and child, and rented George Kriger's machine shop for repairing automobiles.

Those who have come in contact with the man speak of him as a worthless dead-beat, having no conception of what it means to tell the truth or pay his debts. Mr. Kriger states that the man was a fairly good mechanic, doing an excellent business but that his character and morals were the worst imaginable. According to reports, he spent very little of his money around town, and was in the habit of boasting of the money he had saved up.

In spite of the fact that Ramstach made a bold pretense at being a staunch church member, he allowed his immoral wife and little girl to live with barely food and clothing to keep them alive, and finally, discouraged and neglected, the two returned to Milwaukee to be aided by their relatives. Ramstach continued to live here in utter disregard of his family until he was finally nabbed by authorities last week.

The detective who came up from Milwaukee for Ramstach was H. P. Peck who has been with the Milwaukee police for twenty-five years and is a personal friend of John Norrington of this city, who worked some years with him. Mr. Peck stated that he was greatly impressed with Grand Rapids and is determined to pay another visit at the nearest opportunity.

Guy Wood and Miss Helen Hayden to be Married Saturday.

On Saturday of this week will take place the marriage of Guy Wood and Miss Helen Hayden, both of whom are well known in Grand Rapids society. The wedding will be at the home of the bride, in Lexington, Kentucky.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Wood, father and mother of the groom, departed Monday for Lexington to be present at the ceremony, accompanied by their nephew, Walter Wood, who will act as best man.

Miss Hayden, who taught two years ago in our public schools, made many friends during her stay here, and Mr. Wood, who is a native of this city, has always been one of Grand Rapids' most popular young men.

After their honeymoon the bride and groom will make their home at Dan Chaire where the latter is associated with the Tannberg Auto Company.

A Big Crop of Melons.

Frank Whitlock, the melon man has one of the biggest melon patches this year that he has ever had, and has been selling ripe melons from his place for more than a week past. He reports that he has about 20,000 hills of vines, which with ordinary luck will yield him about a hundred thousand melons. The crop has been cultivated somewhat by the cool nights and many, many melons have burst open on account of the wet weather that has prevailed.

C. S. Hamilton, who is located about two miles from the city, also has a big patch of water and musk melons this year and has been selling them for some time past and reports a pretty good crop.

The frost on Monday night touched the tops of the vines to a certain extent, but it is reported did not hurt the melons any.

Falls From Wagon.

Pitching head first from the high seat of a heavy farm wagon Saturday afternoon, Rudolph Schroeder, employed by Hans Marks at Fourteen Mile Creek, was quite seriously bruised about the arms and face. He and Mrs. Marks were returning from the grist mill and when they arrived at Rowland's corner the team became frightened at an automobile, jumped to one side, and thus caused Schroeder to lose his balance and fall under the wheels. The injured man was taken to a near by store where his wounds were dressed by Dr. Looze.

Sale of Household Goods.
—As we intend leaving the city in the near future we will sell all of our household furniture, sale to commence on the 13th of September. Leo Polzin.

Held to Circuit Court.
Ernest Hall had his hearing before Justice Pomaine on Tuesday morning on a charge of perjury and was bound over to await trial at the next term of circuit court.

THEY ARE INDEED CHEERFUL LOSERS

In speaking of the game in this city last Sunday the Stevens Point Journal has the following to say about the matter:

"Considerable credit is due Umpire Bandelin for his assistance in winning the game. Twice he called runners out at first when they did not appear to be by those who sat near that end. Another drive by Garlie along third base, upon which he got to second, was called a foul ball, although it was easily five feet inside of the line.

"Grand Rapids need not think, however, that we are sore or hard losers, for that is one thing that can not be said of Stevens Point. We take our defeats, which have been few, gracefully and let it go at that. We have defeated them six out of nine and can do it again."

While the Journal may be himself a cheerful loser, it seems that the members of the team are not built on the same lines as may be judged by the following letter which was received by A. P. Maltroy the fore part of the week:

Dear Sir:—As to playing your clubs here this week, the fans here won't stand for it, after the deal they saw us get at your town Sunday. It was a pure case of robbery by Umpire Bandelin. It was all framed up before the game to rob us. He admitted himself after the game, went to the Dixon Buffet, that he got even with us. The three hundred fans that journeyed to your town to see a ball game, sure saw that we were robbed all through the game. They all came to me saying they would not uphold the game here if I would play your club again. I could give you the same dose, but I don't want to kill the game, and the fans won't stand for it to have the umpire win the games for us. Some of your own fans admitted we were robbed, so you can see where I am at. You sure will kill the game by having Bandelin win the games for you.

Yours truly,
Mr. Schriener.

Improvements at the Grand.

The management of the Grand Theater have rearranged the interior of that place so as to increase the seating capacity something over a hundred. The floor has been changed so that the slant is toward the entrance and the seats turned about. The picture machine will be in the back end of the building, outside of the main building altogether, and it is considered that the change will make quite an improvement.

Operation at Riverview.

Stanley Peart, a young man about twenty years of age, who resides near Pittsville, was brought to this city and placed in Riverview hospital last week and on Thursday Dr. O. T. Hougton operated upon him, removing an abscess from the pelvis. Since the operation the young man has been getting along all right.

Frost Monday Night.

Quite a frost visited this section on Monday night and many of the gardens about the city were touched, although the damage done was not great. On the cranberry marshes mercury went down to 25 in the coldest places, and to 27 as a general thing. No damage is reported to the berries in this vicinity.

Friends Ask for Picture of the Late Judge Webb.

Two weeks ago, The Tribune printed a front page picture of the late Judge Charles Morton Webb, and the reproduction was so well liked that a number of people have asked for separate prints. In reply to this request we are giving the picture as a supplement to this week's issue, printed on the best super-calendar book paper.

The 1600 supplements sent out this week were turned out on the Tribune's new three roller Optimum Press, which was recently installed. This machine is considered to be the best press in Wood County.

The Wood County National Bank Charter Extended for Another 20 Years.

—The Wood County National Bank has just received a renewal of its Charter from the United States Government. National Bank charters are granted for periods of twenty years and ending the bank making application for an extension is found to be in good condition after a special examination by a Government bank examiner.

The charter of the Wood County National Bank expired August 30th. The special examination of the bank's affairs was made on Friday and Saturday, August 24th and 25th, and the following Thursday a letter was received by the bank officials from the Comptroller of the Currency at Washington, D. C., announcing that the report made by the examiner was found perfectly satisfactory, and that the bank's charter would be extended for the usual period of twenty years.

The renewal certificate was sent from Washington on August 26th, and received at the bank in due time. The Wood County National Bank was opened for business November 1st, 1891, and at the close of the first year business had deposits of $9,952.53 with resources $52,607.61.

After twenty years of successful banking this institution now has deposits of OVER NINE HUNDRED THOUSAND AND TOTAL RESOURCES OF A MILLION AND A QUARTER DOLLARS.

The first officers and directors elected at the organization meeting of this bank were as follows:—Frank Garrison, President; L. M. Alexander, Vice President and F. J. Wood, Cashier. Directors:—Frank Garrison, L. M. Alexander, T. E. Nash, E. Roenius, and F. J. Wood. A few years later Mr. D. B. Phillee was elected Assistant Cashier, and acted in that capacity until February 1st, 1911, when he voluntarily resigned. After the death of Mr. Frank Garrison, whose services and splendid business ability had been of great value to the bank, Mr. F. J. Wood was elected to the presidency, and continued to hold that office at the present time.

All of the original directors, with the exception of Mr. Garrison, are members of the Board of Directors today, and under their guidance, with the additional members added to the Board, has this bank enjoyed so prosperous a career.

In August 1906, Mr. Guy O. Babcock was elected cashier to fill the vacancy caused by the promotion of Mr. F. J. Wood to the presidency. The officers and directors at present are as follows:—F. J. Wood, President; L. M. Alexander, Vice President; Guy O. Babcock, Cashier; Warren G. Fisher, Asst. Cashier. Directors:—L. M. Alexander, F. J. Wood, T. E. Nash, G. F. Steele, E. Roenius, Judson C. Rosebush, L. E. Nash, T. E. Mullen, and Guy O. Babcock.

There are seventy-one stockholders, most of whom are residents of Grand Rapids and Wood County. The bank was originally organized with $50,000.00 paid in Capital. This amount has since been increased to $100,000.00 in addition to which they have a surplus of $100,000.00, every dollar of which has been earned, making it the largest banking institution in wood County.

They have also paid to the stockholder regular semi-annual dividends from the earnings.

For nearly nineteen years the business of the bank was conducted in its original quarters, which naturally became too small for their rapidly increasing business. At the annual stockholders meeting in January 1909, the directors were authorized to secure plans and erect a new bank building. Work was immediately started, and in May 1911, the Books, Cash, and Securities were moved into the new quarters, where business was commenced in the beautiful and commodious new fire-proof building which the bank now occupies.

During these years the officials of this bank have endeavored to serve their patrons fairly and to the best of their ability. It has also been their aim and purpose to aid in the up-building of Grand Rapids and Wood County.

Will Demonstrate Machine.

The manufacturers of the Crowe 30 expect to have one of their machines here this week to demonstrate the workings of the car. Mr. Dargis of the Commercial club reports that if they have a good car they will have no trouble in securing plenty of capital in this city. It is not known at the present time what day they will be here.

Three Ball Games.

The Green Bay Bowers will play here on Sunday and the famous Fox Lake team on Tuesday, and Wednesday, Dodge Bros. battery for Fox Lake.

Mr. B. Fejman of Milwaukee is a guest at the home of Mrs. August Nibauer in the town of Randolph this week.

LOCAL MAN GETS FREE ADVERTISING

Charles W. Minard, who recently purchased the Riemann farm in the town of Saratoga, has been receiving more than his share of notice from the Chicago papers since he located in Wood County.

Mr. Minard was formerly principal of one of the ward schools in Chicago, in fact held such a position until the end of the school year. In June Mr. Minard came to Wood County to buy a farm and according to the newspaper reports he failed to tell his wife where he was going. While about somebody telephoned his wife that he had gone away with another woman, and the result was that Mrs. Minard took a dose of carbolic acid, from which she subsequently died. It appears that Minard did leave with another woman, who was Mrs. Lytle of Nekoma, who handles real estate and often goes to Chicago and accompanies prospective buyers to this locality and shows them farms which she has for sale.

About a month after his wife's death Minard got married again and moved to the farm that he had purchased in Saratoga. Then the Chicago papers got wind of his whereabouts, the Tribune of that city being especially active in trying to make a sensational story out of nothing. A special writer for the Tribune was sent to this city on Saturday to look the matter up, and he was checked full of business. He came into the Tribune office and told a long story of the past misdeeds of Minard, none of which could be substantiated, however, so as to be used in a newspaper story. He stated to the Tribune that his specialty was "gum shoe" work and that he was going out to see Minard, and we judged from what he had to say that he was going to scare the ex-school teacher out of about seven years growth, and that possibly it might result in pistols at three paces. As the Chicago man invited us to go along and assist at the obsequies, we accepted the invitation, figuring on our ability as a sprinter to save the day in case hostilities broke out.

The meeting, however, proved to be a tame one, as Minard refused to answer any of the questions put by the Chicago newspaper man, and he did not seem to be especially scared by the visit either. So the gum shoe man climbed into his rig and came back to town, none the wiser for his trip of two hundred and fifty miles. When asked what he would do about the matter the Chicago man stated that he would face the story. He said it would never do for him to come clear up here on a job of this kind and then fall down; that he had Minard dead to rights and that he could not speak no matter what he said about him in the paper. The Chicago man's greatest desire was to secure evidence that Minard had married his present wife before his first wife died, or at least that he had been traveling with her as his wife, in which he entirely failed.

Mr. and Mrs. Minard have been living on their farm for about a month, and they are very comfortably located, having 130 acres of land with a good house and barn and adequate outbuildings. The place is fairly well stocked with cattle, horses and chickens.

We do not know what Mr. Minard's career may have been in Chicago, but it was good enough so that the school board of that city saw fit to keep him in charge of one of their schools for a number of years. If he conducts himself as an ordinary citizen while living in this section it is probable that he will receive ordinary treatment.

Business College Opens Sept. 4th. The next regular session of the Grand Rapids Business College begins on Monday, September 4th, in the new building on Grand Avenue. Everything has been put in readiness to accommodate a large number of students, and with their splendid modern building, additional equipment, and improved facilities the college will be even better able than before to prepare young people for successful business life and to fill the best-paying positions.

More calls for graduates are received each year than can be filled, and young people who wish to fit themselves for good positions in a short time and at small expense would do well to arrange with the principal, E. L. Hayward, to enroll as early in the term as possible.

The president of the College of the City of New York finds that one person in every 30 adults in the United States holds public office of some degree, "a public servant who is going up and down in some vicarious capacity for the other 29." So large an estimate of the proportion of functionaries to the total adult population, male and female, seems surprising until the variety and bulk of the classifications is considered, says the Providence Journal. School teachers, for example, must be counted, while the development of public hygiene, of sociological enterprises, or the pure food laws, readily come to mind among elements newly expanding the public service and employing a growing host of performers of vicarious duties. Dr. Finley submits a partial directory of the thirtieth man. He is the man who sweeps the streets as well as the one in the White House. He gathers and distributes the letters; forecasts heat and cold; tastes the milk before the child may drink it; keeps watch over forest and stream; is supervisor, doctor, nurse and guard in hospital, prison and almshouse; is mayor, judge, sheriff, soldier and public librarian, collector of taxes, guardian to the child who comes friendless into the world and chaplain at the burial of the man who goes friendless out of it; and so on.

Exports of the federal hospital service have been compiling data from the census reports that make a striking showing of the cost of disease in this country and emphasize the necessity of more rigid enforcement, particularly in cities, of laws and regulations designed to safeguard the public health. Tuberculosis is stated to cost this country in the value of lives destroyed, $250,000,000 a year and the more expenses in medicine, food, medical attendance and loss of wages in $90,000,000 annually, says the St. Paul Pioneer Press. The census reports estimate the value of the 33,000 lives lost annually from typhoid fever at $212,000,000. The experts estimate that the total loss from contagious diseases, including tuberculosis, is $750,000,000 a year, of which 40 per cent, or $300,000,000, is preventable. The cost of prevention would be a mere fraction of the cost of preventable diseases and there should be no false economy in expenditures for the campaign against contagion. The health of the people is the greatest asset of the nation.

The thoughtful observer, especially if his journey leads him to very distant lands, will not return boastful, but he will be grateful. VETOES COTTON BILL

WAS NOT FULLY CONSIDERED

Congress Adjourns With Echo of Third Veto Ringing in Its Ears—No Attempt to Pass Bill Over Head of Executive.

Washington.—With the echo of another presidential veto ringing in its ears the special session of congress adjourned.

In his third tariff veto message the president made special objection to the attempt to add a revision of the iron and steel and chemical schedules to the cotton bill as amendments.

"I find," the message of the president said, "that there was practically no consideration of either schedule by any committee of either house. There were no facts presented to either house in which I can find material upon which to form any judgment as to the effect of the amendments either upon American industries or upon the revenues of the government."

Briefly reviewing the manner in which the iron and steel and chemical amendments were added to the bill the president said:

"I cannot make myself a party to dealing with the industries of the country in this way. The industries covered by metals and the manufacture of metals are the largest in the country, and it would seem not only wise, but absolutely essential to acquire accurate information as to the effect of changes which may vitally affect these industries before enacting them into law."

Speaking of the cotton industry, the president said the capital invested in 1900 amounted to $221,000,000, the value of the product to $920,000,000, the number of wage earners to 370,000, making, with dependents, a total of at least 1,200,000 persons affected, with annual wages of $140,000,000. This bill would not have gone into effect until January 1 next, and Mr. Taft said the tariff board would be ready with a report before that time. Investigation by the house ways and means committee, Mr. Taft said, was purely for the purpose of preparing a bill on a tariff for revenue basis.

"Pledged to support a policy of moderate protection," he added, "I cannot approve a measure which violates its principle."

The president denounced the bill as "empirical and haphazard."

"This bill," he continues, "illustrates and enforces the views which I have already expressed in vetoing the wool bill and the so-called free list bill, as to the paramount importance of securing, through the investigation and reports of the tariff board, a definite and certain basis of ascertainment for the consideration of tariff laws. When the reports of the tariff board upon these schedules are received the duties which should be imposed can be determined upon justly and with intelligent appreciation of the effect that they will have both upon industry and upon revenue."

No attempt was made to pass the bill over the veto.

The bills passed by congress which received executive approval were the reciprocity bill, the stretched bill, the reorganization bill and the measure providing for publicity of campaign funds.

STATEHOOD BILL IS SIGNED

Taft Agrees to Measure, Which Now Goes to Vote of the Territories.

Washington.—President Taft signed the statehood bill admitting the territories of Arizona and New Mexico to the Union. The measure signed was that passed after he had vetoed the first bill passed.

This act ends a fight which has continued more than twenty years for the admission of the territories. Only the territories themselves can now hold up the issuance of the final proclamation adding two stars to the flag.

LOSE DATA IN ALASKA RIVER

Professors Starr and Madden Are Plunged Into Waters of Big Delta.

Cordova, Alaska.—All field notes and the cameras and exposed film of the Smithsonian Institution glacial expedition are somewhere on the bottom of the Big Delta river, according to advice received here. The current of the river ripped up a wagon in which Professors R. F. Starr and Lawrence Madden were crossing the stream. The men got ashore.

Louisville (Ky.) Gas Strike Ends. Louisville, Ky. Striking employees of the Louisville Gas company will return to work in time to replenish the stock of gas, which had dwindled to a small amount. The workmen obtained a ten-hour day with 25 cents increase.

In Jail Fifty-Seven Times. Hartford, Conn.—A "Marathon" time server in the local jail began a thirty days' sentence, his fifty-seventh since 1895. He is "Finky" Flynn. Flynn's usual offense is drunkenness.

Ministers Face Fines. Cincinnati.—Figures show that in the past twenty-five years there have been 2,660 weddings in this city which have not been reported. Under the laws of Ohio, if a minister doesn't report a marriage performed, he can be fined $50.

FRAUDS IN CUSTOMS

REMARKABLE REVELATIONS MADE BEFORE HOUSE COMMITTEE—GOVERNMENT LOSES BIG SUM.

Washington.—Secretary of the Treasury MacVeagh in a document made public tells some remarkable revelations made by his department in graduating many gigantic frauds from the United States customs service and the assistance given him by business firms and citizens.

The document is a stenographic record of a hearing in which Mr. MacVeagh testified before the house committee on expenditures in the treasury department.

The tremendous cleaning up of frauds in the customs service which the secretary has accomplished, was briefly sketched for the benefit of the committee. Most of these instances have become public.

$500,000 in fines and penalties was collected from English woolen manufacturers and American importers.

The Panama hat frauds were discovered through information given Mr. MacVeagh by Marshall Field & Co.

The Chicago firm then presented the second invoice at the custom house and paid the full duty.

The secretary said that hitherto not only sugar but every other kind of merchandise had been underweighted at New York and the "government heavily defrauded right and left."

TAFT STARTS ON TRIP SEPT. 12

Leaders View Jaunt as Most Important Politically—Has Mapped Out.

Washington.—Plans for President Taft's coming trip through the west and to the Pacific coast practically are completed.

According to the present arrangement the president will be gone six weeks. In that time it is expected that he will make close to 200 speeches from platform from the rear end of his private car and at other places not on the regular schedule.

Republican leaders look upon the trip as the most important politically the president has mapped out since he entered the White House. He will go through all the states in the west in which they recognize the domination of the progressive Republicans who are counted on to oppose his re-election next year.

The president probably will leave Beverly September 12, returning about November 1. He will go west through Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska, Colorado and Nevada to the coast.

From California the president will go north to Portland and Seattle. Three days are to be spent in Washington state, and the route eastward will allow him to stop in Idaho, Montana, the Dakotas and Minnesota.

RISK FRAUDS ARE BARED

President of State Officials' Body Scores Risk Concerns—Forgery Is Used.

Milwaukee.—A number of industrial, health and accident insurance companies were severely criticized by Joseph Button of Virginia, president of the organization, in his annual address before the forty-second national convention of state insurance commissioners.

Mr. Button said that an investigation by a committee of 14 or 15 companies doing a health and accident business resulted in disclosures that were shocking in the extreme.

"As the committee which made the investigation has its report nearly ready, I shall not anticipate the remedies they will suggest for the conditions there disclosed, except to say that it is incumbent upon us to root out this evil without mercy."

100 ARE KILLED IN WRECK

Mexican Express Train Plunges Through Bridge Into Amacuzac River.

Mexico City.—Divers began exploring the depths of the swollen Amacuzac river in an effort to recover the bodies of 100 more passengers, including several Americans, who were drowned when an express on the National railroad plunged into the water where the bridge had been washed away.

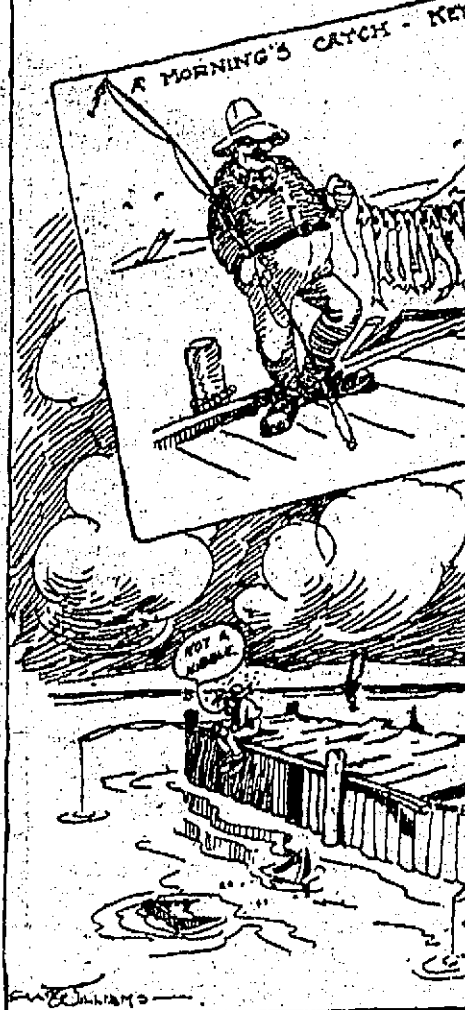

First efforts at recovering the bodies indicated that the "exact" number of dead might never become known. Some of the bodies had been carried down stream by the swift current.

Every person aboard the train perished. Not even a railway employee aboard discovered the danger ahead in time to jump and escape death in the stream.

1,100 In Rush for Lands.

Cass Lake, Minn.—By actual count, 1,100 men and women were in line waiting for the land opening here. The area to be opened will make about 500 160-acre tracts. Arthur Roberts of Sterling, Ill., held second place.

IN VACATION TIME

TO BARE BRIBES

FORMER OHIO OFFICER TO MAKE CONFESSION OF CORRUPT PRACTICES.

CONFESSION MAY SAVE HIM

Convicted Sergeant-at-Arms to Tell All to Attorney General—Expected Several Lobbyists Will Be Called Into Court.

Columbus, O.—At the conclusion of a conference participated in by Attorney General Hogan, County Prosecutor Turner and Rodney J. Diegle, former sergeant-at-arms of the senate, who was convicted of aiding and abetting bribery in the Ohio legislature, it was announced that Diegle would make a full confession of what he knows of corrupt practices in the last assembly.

For his part in aiding the alleged graft fund, Diegle will receive mercy at the hands of the common pleas court when the time comes for sentence to be passed. Probably he will escape a penitentiary sentence. He was given two weeks to prepare his confession.

It is expected several lobbyists will be drawn into court as a result of Diegle's agreement to confess. The prosecutor and attorney general expect to have evidence to place before the grand jury when it convenes next month.

Diegle was indicted with Senators L. E. Huffman, of Butler county and George K. Craton, of Dayton. The two senators have not been tried. Each is charged with soliciting bribes from lobbyists in the employ of the William J. Burns agency, who were employed to uncover graft in the state house.

TO PROBE PANIC OF 1907

Owen of Oklahoma Offers Resolution to Appoint an Investigating Committee.

Washington.—An investigation into causes leading to the panic of 1907 and the benefits secured from it by any persons or corporations, was asked in a resolution offered by Senator Owen of Oklahoma.

Immediate consideration was not asked.

The resolution named as an investigating committee Senators Kern of Indiana, Works of California, Reed of Missouri, Page of Vermont, and Clark of Wyoming.

DARING AUTO RACER KILLED

Driving his huge Stover Chicago car along the south leg of the course at an estimated speed of 60 miles an hour Ireland was ditched. Before he regained the road his right rear wheel collapsed, wrecking the car and fatally injuring the driver and hurting the mechanic.

Gives $50,000 to Hospital.

San Francisco.—A gift of $50,000, sent by Mrs. E. H. Harmon, of the city, will be the means of establishing a laboratory for the purpose of bacteriological and pathological research.

Kaiser Honors Harvard Professor.

Berlin.—The emperor has conferred the high decoration of the Order of the Red Eagle of the second class on Hugo Munsterburg of Harvard university. Munsterburg has sailed for America.

Quantrells in a Reunion.

Blue Springs, Mo.—In a grove on the outskirts of this town the splendidly swarming troop of survivors of the Quantrell band of guerrillas, the famous border fighters of Civil war days, held their annual reunion.

TO INSPECT ALL FOOD

SOLD AT STATE FAIR

Victuals Must Be Served With Attention to Health.

RIGID INSPECTION BY STATE

Confiscated Scales, Weights and Measures Will Be Shown—Railroad Will Have Agricultural Crop and Land Exhibit Cars.

Madison.—If you go to the state fair this year to remain the entire day and decide to lunch at a hamburger stand or dine in one of the restaurants conducted by the various church and other organizations, you can depend upon it that the food you get will be wholesome, clean and served with every attention to health. This was decided at the meeting of the state board of agriculture when both Health Commissioner Kraft and Dairy and Food Commissioner Emery called the attention of the board to the necessity for restriction, inspection and precaution in feeding the public during fair week.

The state dairy and food commissioner will have charge of the food consumption at the fair, and the lemonade man, the red-hot man, the ice cream vendor, and every other dispenser of victuals will have to submit to a rigid inspection by the state.

Sealer of Weights and Measures Janssen has been offered space for an exhibit of confiscated scales, weights and measures, and will present an instructive exhibit for the benefit of the people of Wisconsin, using his "rogue's gallery" collected in Milwaukee, in addition to specimens of trick and short weight scales and measures confiscated.

The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad will have one of their agricultural crop and land exhibit cars in a conspicuous place on the grounds during fair week. The exhibition car contains grains, fruits, grasses and garden products, gathered from along the unsettled portions of the Milwaukee road system.

Special exhibitions of one and five mile, motorcycle races will be given each day by the Harley-Davidson company.

The Woman's Suffrage association and the Political Equality league were granted permission to erect tents and promote the interest of their organizations.

An old-fashioned spelling contest will be conducted. The contest will be indulged in by the winners of the county contests held last spring.

Agricultural College at Fair.

Better exhibits this year than ever before, simpler in form, and more educational, that is the keynote of the plans of each department of the agricultural college and experiment station at Madison for their displays at the state fair at Milwaukee, September 12-16.

Charts and maps will occupy small space in the soils booth, giving way to large photographs of actual conditions. Every farmer should visit this exhibit to learn the different methods of treating different soils and the results from the actual use of these methods in field crops.

When Lincoln Benches descended into Grant park from a height at which his Curtiss biplane had been barely visible, his biograph record showed an altitude of 1,578 feet. Declaration that the world's record had been broken were made following the reading of the instrument by Capt. C. O. Cuijor, the army expert in charge of the delicate height records.

Brindley fell off his pedestal as a star cloud climber of the meet when the mathematicians found that they had made a miscalculation of more than a mile in figuring his altitude record. Faulty calibration had given Brindley an altitude mark of 11,724 feet, a new world's record, when the actual height attained was only 5,768 feet.

NAME BRITISH STRIKE BOARD

Commission to Settle Issue Between Railway and Men Announced by Government.

London, England.—The commission appointed to inquire into the troubles between the railways of Great Britain and their employees, which led to the recent strike, was announced by the government in the house of commons. The chairman is Sir David Harcourt, and the secretary is Lord Curzon.

The railways are represented by Sir Thomas R. Ellis, secretary of the Mine Owners' association, and Sir Charles G. Beale, vice-chancellor of the University of Birmingham. The representatives of the men are Arthur Henderson, labor member of parliament for the Barnard Castle division of Durham, and John Burnet, chief of Durham, corresponding of the board of trade.

Woman Drowns While Bathing.

Zanesville, O.—Mrs. Sarah Drew of Columbus was drowned in the Muskingum river while learning to swim with her sister, Mrs. F. E. Hemmer. Both were using water wings. The wings collapsed and both women sank. Mrs. Hemmer was rescued.

Found Drowned in Mystery.

Zanesville, O.—L. H. Maxwell, forty years old, was found dead along the Locking river. His head was submerged. Coroner Walters said it was a case of accidental drowning.

Law Hits Communion Cup.

Kansas City, Mo.—Persons who attend communion services in Kansas City churches in the future may be required to have an individual cup. An ordinance abolishing all public drinking receptacles is before the city council.

Merchant Fleet in Plans.

San Francisco.—The Panama-Pacific exposition company has decided to send a fleet of ships to New Orleans, to be the first fleet to pass through the Panama canal.

The railways are represented by Sir Thomas R. Ellis, secretary of the Mine Owners' association, and Sir Charles G. Beale, vice-chancellor of the University of Birmingham. The representatives of the men are Arthur Henderson, labor member of parliament for the Barnard Castle division of Durham, and John Burnet, chief of Durham, corresponding of the board of trade.

Woman Drowns While Bathing.

Zanesville, O.—Mrs. Sarah Drew of Columbus was drowned in the Muskingum river while learning to swim with her sister, Mrs. F. E. Hemmer. Both were using water wings. The wings collapsed and both women sank. Mrs. Hemmer was rescued.

Found Drowned in Mystery.

Zanesville, O.—L. H. Maxwell, forty years old, was found dead along the Locking river. His head was submerged. Coroner Walters said it was a case of accidental drowning.

Law Hits Communion Cup.

Kansas City, Mo.—Persons who attend communion services in Kansas City churches in the future may be required to have an individual cup. An ordinance abolishing all public drinking receptacles is before the city council.

Merchant Fleet in Plans.

San Francisco.—The Panama-Pacific exposition company has decided to send a fleet of ships to New Orleans, to be the first fleet to pass through the Panama canal.

DAVIES CHOSEN AS RYAN'S SUCCESSOR

DEMOCRATIC STATE CHAIRMAN MADE MEMBER OF NATIONAL COMMITTEE.

SCHUTZ IS STATE CHAIRMAN

Milwaukee Man Unanimously Elected to Place Made Vacant by Davies' Resignation—Opponents of Latter Withdraw Candidates.

Madison.—J. E. Davies, Madison, was elected member of the democratic national committee from Wisconsin at the meeting of the democratic state central committee held in this city.

Mr. Davies immediately tendered his resignation as chairman of the state central committee and Frank B. Schutz, Milwaukee county chairman, was elected state chairman.

Mr. Davies, who was the only candidate for national committeeman, other aspirants having previously withdrawn, was elected by a vote of 20 to 2 on the first formal ballot. Mr. Schutz was elected by unanimous vote.

All the members of the state central committee were present in person or by proxy. Prior to the meeting of the committee Chairman Paul Hemmy of Janesville to fill the vacancy in the office of Sixth district, caused by the death of George W. Thawen.

John A. Hazelwood was elected secretary of the committee before the election of Mr. Schutz. A. G. Schmiedeman of Madison was elected treasurer of the committee.

A gold headed coin was presented to Mr. Davies by the members of the state central committee.

WILL HOLD LARGE ASSEMBLY

Over 20,000 Members of 189 M. E. Churches to Be Represented at September Antigo Meet.

Antigo.—Churches to the number of 169 will be represented at the sixty-fifth assembly of the Wisconsin conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, which will open here Sept. 19 and close Sept. 25. Over 22,000 members of Methodist and 22 active ministers are members of this conference, which comprises that portion of Wisconsin east of a line running north and south through the center of the state. The four conference districts which will present reports are Milwaukee, Janesville, Oshkosh and Appleton. Bishop Hamilton of Boston will preside. A laymen's conference will be held at the same time.

Stevens Point Man Named by Governor to Succeed the Late Judge Webb of Grand Rapids.

Madison.—Byron B. Park of Stevens Point has been appointed judge of the Seventh Judicial circuit by Gov. McGovern to succeed the late Charles M. Webb. The appointment is for the unexpired term ending January, 1915.

GRAND RAPIDS TRIBUNE

GRAND RAPIDS, WIS.

THE THIRTIETH MAN.

The president of the College of the City of New York dares that one person in every 30 adults in the United States holds public office of some degree, "a public servant who is going up and down in some vicarious capacity for the other 29." So large an estimate of the proportion of functionaries to the total adult population, male and female, seems surprising until the variety and bulk of the classifications is considered, says the Providence Journal. School teachers, for example, must be counted, while the development of public hygiene, of social service and employing a growing host of performers of various duties. Dr. Finley submits a partial directory of the thirtieth man. It is the man who sweeps the streets as well as the one in the White House; forecasts heat and cold; tastes the milk before the child may drink it; keeps watch over forest and stream; is supervisor, doctor, nurse and guard in hospital, prison and almshouse; is mayor, judge, sheriff, sailor and soldier, public librarian, collector of taxes, guardian to the child who comes friendless into the world and goes friendless out of it; and so on.

Experts of the federal hospital service have been compiling data from the census reports that make a striking showing of the cost of disease in this country and emphasize the necessity of more rigid enforcement, particularly in cities, of laws and regulations designed to safeguard the public health. Tuberculosis is slated to cost this country in the value of lives destroyed, $250,000,000 a year and the mere expenses in medicine, food, medical attendance and loss of wages is $30,000,000 annually, says the St. Paul Pioneer Press. The census reports estimate the value of the 33,000 lives lost annually from typhoid fever at $12,000,000. The experts estimate that the total loss from contagious diseases, including tuberculosis, is $750,000,000 a year, of which 40 per cent, or $300,000,000, is preventable. The cost of prevention would be a mere fraction of the cost of preventable diseases and there should be no false economy in expenditures for the campaign against contagion. The health of the people is the greatest asset of the nation.

The thoughtful observer, especially if his journey leads him to very distant lands, will not be gratified, but he will be grateful. The weighty problem of assimilation seems heavier when one thinks on the possibilities of making American citizens of those people now coming here as he contemplates them in the place of origin. The ethnics of a European journey are a delight. But on American life scales outweighs an Alhambra in the scales of opportunity and of human life.

VETOES COTTON BILL

WAS NOT FULLY CONSIDERED

Congress Adjourns With Echo of Third Vote Ringing in Its Ears—No Attempt to Pass Bill Over Head of Executive.

Washington—With the echo of another presidential veto ringing in its ears, the special session of congress adjourned.

In his third tariff veto message the president made special objection to the attempt to add a revision of the iron and steel and chemical schedules to the cotton bill as amendments. "I find," the message of the president said, "that there was practically no consideration of either schedule by any committee of either house. There were no facts presented to either house, which I can find material to the effect of the amendments either upon American industries or upon the revenues of the government."

Briefly reviewing the manner in which the iron and steel and chemical schedules were added to the bill the president said:

"I cannot make myself a party to dealing with the industries of the country in this way. The industries covered by metals and the manufacture of metals are the largest in the country, and it would seem not only wise, but absolutely essential to give accurate information as to the effect of changes which may vitally affect these industries before enacting them into law."

Speaking of the cotton industry, the president said the capital invested in the industry amounted to $251,000,000, the value of the product to $250,000,000, the number of wage earners to 370,000, including, with dependents, a total of at least 1,200,000 persons affected with annual wages of $146,000,000. The bill would not have gone into effect until January 1 next, and Mr. Tary said the tariff board would be ready with a report before that time. Investigation by the house ways and means committee, Mr. Tary said, was purely for the purpose of preparing a bill on a tariff for revenue basis.

"Pledged to support a policy of moderate protection," he added, "I cannot support a measure which violates its principle."

The president denounced the bill as "empirical and haphazard."

"This bill," he continues, "illustrates and enforces the views which I have already expressed in vetoing the wool bill and the so-called free list bill, as to the paramount importance of securing, through the investigation and reports of the tariff board, a definite and certain basis of ascertained fact for the consideration of tariff laws. When the reports of the tariff board upon these schedules are received the duties which should be imposed can be determined upon a just and with intelligent appreciation of the effect that they will have both upon industry and upon revenue."

No attempt was made to pass the bill over the veto.

The bills passed by congress which received executive approval were the copyright bill, the statehood bill, the reorganization bill and the measure providing for publicity of campaign funds.

Mr. Burton said that an investigation by a committee of 14 of companies doing a health and accident business resulted in disclosures that were shocking in the extreme.

"As the committee which made the investigation has its report nearly ready, I shall not anticipate the remedy they will suggest for the condition there disclosed, except to say that it is incumbent upon us to root out this evil without mercy."

FRAUDS IN CUSTOMS

REMARKABLE REVELATIONS MADE BEFORE HOUSE COMMITTEE—GOVERNMENT LOSES BIG SUM.

Washington.—Secretary of the Treasury MacVeagh in a document made public tells some remarkable revelations made by his department in raiding major gigantic frauds from the United States customs service and the assistance given him by business firms and citizens.

The document is a stenographic record of a hearing in which Mr. MacVeagh testified before the house committee on expenditures in the treasury department.

The tremendous cleaning up of frauds in the customs service which the secretary has accomplished was briefly sketched for the benefit of the committee. Most of these instances never became public. More than $500,000 in fines and penalties was collected from English woolen manufacturers and American importers.

The Panama hat frauds were discovered through information given Mr. MacVeagh by Marshall Field & Co.

The Chicago firm then presented the second instance at the customs house and paid the full duty.

The secretary said that hitherto not only sugar but every other kind of merchandise had been underweight at New York and the "government heavily defrauded right and left."

Washington.—Plans for President Tary's coming trip through the west and to the Pacific coast practically are completed.

According to the present arrangement the president will be gone six weeks. At that time it is expected that he will make close to 200 speeches from a platform from the rear end of his private car and at other places not on the regular schedule.

Republican leaders look upon the trip as the most important politically the president has mapped out since he entered the White House. He will go through all the states in the west in which they recognize the domination of the progressive Republicans who are counted on to oppose his renomination next year.

The president probably will leave Beverly September 12, returning about November 1. He will go west through Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska, Colorado, Nevada to the coast.

From California the president will go north to Portland and Seattle. Three days are to be spent in Washington state, and the route westward will allow him to stop in Idaho, Montana, the Dakotas and Minnesota.

Washington.—A number of industrial health and accident insurance companies were severely criticized by Joseph Burton of Virginia, president of the organization, in his annual address before the forty-second national convention of state insurance commissioners.

VETOES COTTON BILL

WAS NOT FULLY CONSIDERED

Washington.—With the echo of another presidential veto ringing in its ears the special session of congress adjourned.

In his third tariff veto message the president made special objection to the attempt to add a revision of the iron and steel and chemical schedules to the cotton bill as amendments.

"I find," the message of the president said, "that there was practically no consideration of either schedule by any committee of either house. There were no facts presented to either house in which I can find material upon which to form any judgment as to the effect of the amendments either upon American industries or upon the revenues of the government."

Briefly reviewing the manner in which the iron and steel and chemical amendments were added to the bill the president said:

"I cannot make myself a party to dealing with the industries of the country in this way. The industries covered by metals and the manufacture of metals are the largest in the country, and it would seem not only wise, but absolutely essential to acquire accurate information as to the effect of changes which may vitally affect these industries before enacting them into law."

Speaking of the cotton industry, the president said the capital invested in 1909 amounted to $821,000,000, the value of the product to $620,000,000, the number of wage earners to 379,000, making, with dependents, a total of at least 1,200,000 persons affected, with annual wages of $146,000,000. "The bill would not have gone into effect until January 1 next, and Mr. Taft said the tariff board would be ready with a report before that time. In investigation by the house ways and means committee, Mr. Taft said, was purely for the purpose of preparing a bill on a tariff for revenue basis.

"Pledged to support a policy of moderate protection," he added, "I cannot approve a measure which violates its principle."

The president denounced the bill as "unwise and dangerous."

"This bill," he continues, "illustrates and enforces the views which I have already expressed in vetoing the wool bill and the so-called free list bill, as to the paramount importance of securing, through the investigation and reports of the tariff board, a definite and certain basis of essential facts for the consideration of the tariff board upon these schedules are imposed can be determined upon justly and with intelligent appreciation of the effect that they will have both upon industry and upon revenue."

No attempt was made to pass the bill over the veto.

The bills passed by congress which received executive approval were the reciprocity bill, the statehood bill, and the measure providing for publicity of campaign funds.

STATEHOOD BILL IS SIGNED

Taft Agrees to Measure, Which Now Goes to Vote of the Territories.

Washington.—President Taft signed the statehood bill admitting the territories of Arizona and New Mexico to the Union. The measure signed was the bill that passed after he had vetoed the first bill passed.

This act ends a fight which has continued more than twenty years for the admission of the territories. Only the territories themselves can now bring up the issuance of the final proclamation adding two stars to the flag.

LOSE DATA IN ALASKA RIVER

Cordova, Alaska.—All field notes and the cameras and exposed films of the Smithsonian expedition glacial expedition are somewhere on the delta of the Big Delta river, according to advices received here. The current of the river tipped up a wagon in which Professors R. F. Starr and Lawrence Madden were crossing the stream. The men got ashore.

Louisville (Ky.) Gas Strike Ends. Louisville, Ky.—Striking employees of the Louisville Gas company will return to work in time to replenish the stock of gas, which had dwindled to a small amount. The workmen obtained a ten-hour day with 25 cents increase.

In Jail Fifty-Seven Times. Hartford, Conn.—A "Marathon" time server in the local jail began a thirty days' sentence, his fifty-seventh since 1895. He is "Patsy" Flynn. Flynn's usual offense is drunkenness.

Ministers Face Fines. Cincinnati.—Figures show that in the past twenty-five years there have been 2,650 weddings in this city which have not been reported. Under the laws of Ohio, if a minister doesn't report a marriage performed, he can be fined $50.

FRAUDS IN CUSTOMS

REVEALS PLOTS.

Washington.—Secretary of the Treasury MacVeagh in a document made public tells some remarkable revelations made by his department in eradicating many gigantic frauds from the United States customs service and the assistance given him by business firms and citizens.

The document is a stenographic record of a hearing in which Mr. MacVeagh testified before the house committee on expenditures in the treasury department.

The tremendous cleaning up of frauds in the customs service which the secretary has accomplished was briefly sketched for the benefit of the committee. Most of these instances never became public.

The Panama hat frauds were discovered through information given Mr. MacVeagh by Marshall Field & Co.

The Chicago firm then presented the second invoice to a customs house and made the full duty. The secretary said that hitherto not only sugar but every other kind of merchandise had been underweight at New York and the government heavily defrauded right and left.

TAFT STARTS ON TRIP SEPT. 12

Leaders View Jaunt as Most Important Politically—He Has Mapped Out.

Washington.—Plans for President Taft's coming trip through the west and to the Pacific coast practically are completed.

According to the present arrangement the president will be gone six weeks. In that time it is expected that he will make close to 300 speeches from a platform from the rear end of his private car and at other places not on the regular schedule.

Republican leaders look upon the trip as the most important politically the president has mapped out since he entered the White House. He will go westward, in the west he will go through all the states and the territory of the progressive Republicans who are counted on to oppose his re-election next year.

The president probably will leave Beverly September 12, returning east about November 1. He will go through Utah, Colorado, Nevada, the coast.

From California the president will go north to Portland and Seattle. Three days are to be spent in Washington state, and the route eastward will allow him to stop in Idaho, Montana, the Dakotas and Minnesota.

RISK FRAUDS ARE BARED

President of State Officials' Body Scores Risk Concerns—Forgery Is Used.

Milwaukee.—A number of industrial, health and accident insurance companies were severely criticized by Joseph Button, president of the Wisconsin Association of State Insurance Commissioners.

Mr. Button said that an investigation by a committee of 14 or 15 companies doing a health and accident business resulted in disclosures that were shocking in the extreme.

As the committee which made the investigation has its report nearly ready, it shall not anticipate the remedies they will suggest for the conditions there disclosed, except to say that it is incumbent upon us to root out this evil without mercy.

100 ARE KILLED IN WRECK

Mexican Express Train Plunges Through Bridge Into Amacuas River.

Mexico City.—Divers began exploring the depths of the swollen Amacuas river in an effort to recover the bodies of 100 or more passengers, including several Americans, who were drowned when an express on the National railroad plunged into the water where the bridge had been washed away.

First efforts at recovering the bodies indicated that the exact number of dead might never become known. Some of the bodies had been carried down stream by the swift current.

Every person aboard the train perished. Not even a railway employee aboard discovered the danger ahead in time to jump and escape death in the stream.

1,100 In Rush for Lands. Cass Lake, Minn.—By actual count, 1,100 men and women were in line waiting for the land opening here. The area to be opened is estimated at 500,000 acres. Arthur Roberts of Sterling, Ill., held second place.

IN VACATION TIME

TO BARE BRIBES

FORMER OHIO OFFICER TO MAKE CONFESSION OF CORRUPT PRACTICES.

Confession May Save Him

Convicted Sergeant-Arms to Tell All to Attorney General—Expected Several Lobbyists Will Be Called Into Court.

Columbus, O.—At the conclusion of a conference participated in by Attorney General Hogan, County Prosecutor Turner and Rodney J. Diegle, former sergeant-at-arms of the senate, who was convicted of aiding and abetting bribery in the Ohio legislature, it was announced that Diegle would make a full confession of what he knows of corrupt practices in the last assembly.

For his part in aiding the alleged graft fund, Diegle will receive mercy at the hands of the grand jury when the time comes for sentence to be passed. Probably he will escape a penitentiary sentence. He was given two weeks to prepare his confession.

It is expected several lobbyists will be drawn into court as a result of Diegle's agreement to confess. The prosecutor and attorney general expect to have evidence to place before the grand jury when it convenes next month.

Diegle was indicted with Senators I. E. Huffman of Butler county and George K. Creton of Dayton. The two senators have not been tried. Each is charged with soliciting bribes from detectives in the employ of William J. Burns agency, who were employed to uncover graft in the state house.

TO PROBE PANIC OF 1907

Owen of Oklahoma Offers Resolution to Appoint an Investigating Committee.

Washington.—An investigation into causes leading to the panic of 1907 and the benefits secured from it by any persons or corporations, was asked in a resolution offered by Senator Owen of Oklahoma.

Immediate consideration was not asked. The resolution named as an investigating committee Senators Kern of Indiana, Works of California, Reed of Missouri, Page of Vermont, and Clark of Wyoming.

DARING AUTO RACER KILLED

Elgin, Ill.—Ralph Ireland, a daring motor pilot, was killed during official practice for the Elgin National road race.

Driving his huge Stutz-Chicago car along the south leg of the course at an estimated speed of 60 miles an hour, Ireland was ditched. Before he regained the road his right rear wheel collapsed, wrecking the car and fatally injuring the driver and hurting the mechanic.

1,100 In Rush for Lands. Cass Lake, Minn.—By actual count, 1,100 men and women were in line waiting for the land opening here. The area to be opened is estimated at 500,000 acres. Arthur Roberts of Sterling, Ill., held second place.

Gives $50,000 to Hospital. San Francisco.—A gift of $50,000, sent by Mrs. E. H. Harriman to the Southern Pacific hospital in this city, will be the means of establishing a laboratory for the purpose of bacteriological and pathological research.

Kaiser Honors Harvard Professor. Berlin.—The emperor has conferred the high decoration of the Order of the Red Eagle of the second class on Hugo Munsterberg of Harvard university. Munsterberg has sailed for America.

Quintrells in a Reunion. Blue Springs, Mo.—In a grove on the outskirts of this town the steady dwindling troop of survivors of the Quintrells band of guerrillas, the famous "border" fighters of Civil war days, held their annual reunion.

Boy Shoots and Kills Sister. Jacksonville, Ill.—While playing with a .32 caliber revolver, Frank Robertson, aged seven years, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Robertson, accidentally killed his sister Rinda, aged three years.

Fifty-One Custom Houses Abolished. Washington.—If the treasury department plans for redistributing the customs territory of the United States are approved by congress, the number of custom houses will be reduced from 124 to 73.

Hold German Officer as Spy. Plymouth, England.—Philip Max Schulz, a German army officer, was arrested here charged with espionage. The prosecution intimates that the German government was involved in the case.

Washington.—President Taft's chief of staff, Mr. Clegg, is expected to leave for the University of Illinois at Urbana, on October 27.

WILEY TOO SENSITIVE

SECRETARY WILSON SEVERELY CRITICIZES FOOD EXPERT.

Responsibility for Employment of Dr. Rusby Is Placed on the Shoulders of Wiley.

Washington.—The congressional investigation of the attempt to oust Dr. W. W. Wiley from his position as head of the bureau of chemistry in the department of agriculture was closed with the testimony of Secretary Wilson. The committee will hold an executive session to consider his report.

Many times in his testimony Secretary Wilson condemned Dr. Wiley as over-sensitive because his findings on pure food and drugs were not accepted as final, but were sometimes referred to the referee board of which Dr. Wiley himself is chairman.

In appointing the referee board and drug inspection board and in the name of the referee board Secretary Wilson said he considered Dr. Wiley had been done a kindness rather than insulted as a chemist.

The secretary shifted all responsibility for the employment of Dr. W. W. Wiley without question, head of the bureau. Asked about his object in forming a pure food and drug inspection board, the secretary said he felt that greater power attached to a board decision than to a one-man decision.

NEW WORLD RECORD MADE

Beachey Ascends 11,578 in Biplane at Chicago Meet—Brindley Falls Off Pedestal.

Grant Park Aviation Field, Chicago.—When Lincoln Beachey descended into Grant park from a height at which his Curtiss biplane had been barely visible, his barograph showed an altitude of 11,578 feet. Declarations that the world record had been broken were made following the reading of the instrument by Capt. C. C. Culver, the army expert in charge of the delicate feat.

Brindley fell off his pedestal as star of the actual race when the chemist miscalculation of more than a mile in figuring his altitude record. Faulty calibration had given Brindley an altitude mark of 11,728 feet, a new world record; when the actual height attained was only 5,768 feet.

NAME BRITISH STRIKE BOARD

Commission to Settle Issue Between Railway and Men Announced by Government.

London, England.—The commission appointed to inquire into the troubles between the railways of Great Britain and their employees, which led to the recent strike, was announced by the government today.

The chairman is Sir David Harrel, under secretary for Ireland from 1893 to 1902. The railways are represented by Sir Thomas R. Ellis, secretary of the Mine Owners' association, and Sir Charles G. Beale, vice-chancellor of the University of Birmingham.

The representatives of the railway men are Arthur Henderson, labor member of parliament for the Barnard castle division of Durham, and John Burnett, chief labor correspondent of the board of trade.

Woman Drowns While Bathing. Zanesville, O.—Sarah B. Drew was drowned in the river at Zanesville. She was learning to swim with her sister, Mrs. F. E. Hemmer. Both were using water wings. The wings collapsed and both women sank. Mrs. Hemmer was rescued.

Found Drowned in Mystery. Zanesville, O.—L. H. Maxwell, forty years old, was found dead along the Licking river. His head was submerged. Coroner Walters said it was a case of accidental drowning.

Law Hints Milwaukee Cup. Kansas City, Mo.—Persons who attend communion services in Kansas City churches in the future may be required to have an individual cup. An ordinance abolishing all public drinking receptacles is before the city council.

Merchant Fleet Is Plan. San Francisco.—The Panama-Pacific Exposition company pledged it would lend its aid toward carrying out the New Orleans plan to send the first vessel through the Panama canal.

Chicago Post-Office Bank Leads. Washington.—First-class post offices designated as postal savings banks received $1,000,000 in deposits. New York City, $53,023; Chicago, $108,316; Boston, $26,722; and St. Louis, $12,951.

Kick Kills Ex-Congressman's Wife. Ottawa, Ont.—Madeline Aubrey of St. Halliday, a member of ex-congress, was killed by her husband. She became the victim of an unbalanced man.

Postmasters Elect Officers. C. L. Valentine of Janesville was elected president of the Wisconsin Association of Postmasters at the close of the ninth annual convention. H. J. Goddard of Chippewa Falls was chosen first vice-president, E. E. Rieker of Two Rivers second vice-president, and Hendrick P. Reinhardt of Janesville fourth vice-president, and A. G. Kurz, Green Bay, secretary and treasurer. Postmaster Devine secured the next convention for Madison.

Northern Wisconsin Is Blessed. One prominent fact emphasized by the present season of crops in Wisconsin is the surprising stand of northern Wisconsin crops compared with those elsewhere in the state. This is the statement made by Prof. R. A. Moore, the university stationer in that part of the state.

Wheat Harvest Higher Than Ever. Reports just received from the university stationer near Ashland tells of wheat running 35 bushels to the acre.

TO INSPECT ALL FOOD SOLD AT STATE FAIR

Victuals Must Be Served With Attention to Health.

RIGID INSPECTION BY STATE

Confiscated Scales, Weights and Measures Will Be Shown—Railroad Will Have Agricultural Crop and Land Exhibit Cars.

Madison.—If you go to the state fair this year to remain the entire day and decide to lunch at a hamburger stand or dine in one of the restaurants conducted by the various churches and other organizations, you can depend upon it that the food you get will be wholesome, clean and served with every attention to health. This was decided at the meeting of the state board of agriculture when both Health Commissioner Kraft and Dairy and Food Commissioner Egan called the attention of the board to the necessity for restriction, inspection and precaution in feeding the public during fair week.

The state dairy and food commissioner will have charge of the food consumption at the fair, and the lemonade man, the red-hot man, the ice cream vendor, and every other dispenser of victuals will have to submit to a rigid inspection by the state.

Sealer of Weights and Measures Janssen has been offered space for an exhibit of confiscated scales, weights and measures, and will present an instructive exhibit for the benefit of the people of Wisconsin, using his "rogue's gallery" collected in Milwaukee, in addition to specimens of trick and short weight scales and measures confiscated.

The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad will have one of their agricultural crop and land exhibit cars in a conspicuous place on the grounds during fair week. The exhibit car contains grain, fruits, grasses and garden products gathered along the unsettled portions of the Milwaukee road system.

Special exhibitions of one and five mile motorcycle races will be given each day by the Harley-Davidson company.

The Woman's Suffrage association and the Political Equality league were granted permission to erect tents and promote the interest of their organizations.

An old-fashioned spelling contest will be conducted. The contest will be indulged in by the winners of the county contests held last spring.

Agricultural College at Fair. Better exhibits this year than ever before, simpler in form, more concrete and educational; that is the keynote of the plans of each department of the agricultural college and experiment station at Madison for their displays at the state fair at Milwaukee, September 12-16.

Charts and maps will occupy small space in the soil booth, giving way to large photographs of actual conditions. Every farmer should visit this exhibit to learn the different methods of treating different soils and the results from the actual use of these methods in the field.

For example, there is a large photo of a marshy field of corn, part of which was treated with potash. That part is standing six or eight feet tall, while the corn in the untreated rows next to it will not be worth cutting for fodder. Many marshy soils, worn-out, dry lands, etc., have been tried this year, and the results will be shown by actual photographs and samples of grains. Special attention is given to the results of using lime and rock phosphate to supplement manure.

The progress of the soil survey will be illustrated by maps; open gallon jars filled with the various types of soil, and labeled, will be set where farmers may take them in their hands and examine them and refer to the places on the map where such soils are found.

Criticism of Cheese. Cheese made in Wisconsin during July showed the effect of the hot weather. While the texture and color were good, the flavor and odor were somewhat defective in some cases. The careless handling of the milk at a time when conditions were unfavorable. The result is a barnyard odor and a grassy milk flavor and a slightly sour product. The flavor of the cheese should receive first consideration by the factory man. The milk should be good, and the curd should be made with care. The curd should be washed in water, and the whey should be removed. The curd should be pressed, and the cheese should be made with care.

The purpose of the inspection trip was to learn if conditions in the upper peninsula are suitable for orchard purposes.

State Board in Session. The new state board of public affairs, at a meeting in the governor's office, decided to publish a pamphlet on the material and industrial resources of the state, to co-operate with all agencies and organizations of the state which are working to reduce the cost of living, to employ a uniform system of accounting for town, county, municipal and state departments of government.

Wisconsin Patents. The following list of patents were issued to Wisconsin inventors: Lee Canfield, Sparta, drill; Eugene Fern, Yuba City, expansion reamer; John H. Friberg, Maiden Rock, horse collar fastener; Lawrence E. Henschel, Racine, infant's chair; Fred Hoffmann and E. F. Niedecker, assignors to Hoffmann & Billings Manufacturing company, Milwaukee, plate con- tainer; Thomas J. Kelly, Fond du Lac, dam mold; John D. Lammel, Neenah, cutter head.

New Corporations. Articles of incorporation were filed in the office of Secretary of State Frear as follows: Sprosser-Conn Loan & Investment company, Watertown; capital, $50,000; incorporators, W. D. Sprosser, J. W. Sprosser, John G. Conway.

Ajax Line Material works, South Milwaukee; capital, $25,000; incorporators, C. E. Sammond, W. D. Kyle, L. E. Hendee.

Rhen Corset shop, Milwaukee; capital, $2,000; incorporators, Rhen Welter garden, Anna Stoecher, O. W. Miller.

Lauds State's Solons' Work. Governor McGovern in an address before a crowd of 3,000 people at the annual picnic of the Equitable Fraternity union of the Fox river valley at Lenoir, Wis., said that the state was in a better position than ever in its history to keep things marching forward while he remained in office and predicted the next year would be an epoch-making one in Wisconsin's history. He said he believed the new board of public affairs would accomplish much in the way of reducing the cost of living.

Skull Crushed Under Wagon. Eau Claire, Wis.—A man named Van Veghel, aged 30, a saloonkeeper, was instantly killed when he fell from a wagon and was run over. His skull was crushed.

Much Rock for Big Dam. Rhinelander.—Work on the new dam on the Tomahawk river was started under the direction of the Wisconsin Improvement company. The dam will require 90,000 tons of rock and will cost $200,000. It will cover about 4,000 acres.

Eau Claire Invites Taft. Eau Claire.—Mayor Fleming and the city council has wired an invitation to President Taft to visit Eau Claire on his western trip.

DEMOCRATIC STATE CHAIRMAN MADE MEMBER OF NATIONAL COMMITTEE.

SCHUTZ IS STATE CHAIRMAN

Milwaukee Man Unanimously Elected to Place Made Vacant by Davies' Resignation—Opponents of Latter Withdrew Candidates.

Milwaukee.—J. E. Davies, Madison, was elected member of the democratic national committee from Wisconsin at the meeting of the democratic state central committee held in this city.

Mr. Davies immediately tendered his resignation as chairman of the state central committee and Frank R. Schutz, Milwaukee county chairman, was elected state chairman.

Mr. Davies, who was the only candidate for national committee, withdrew his name, having previously withdrawn, was elected by a vote of 20 to 2 on the first formal ballot. Mr. Schutz was elected by unanimous vote.

All the members of the state central committee were present in person or by proxy. Prior to the meeting of the committee Chairman Davies announced the appointment of Paul Bremer as chairman to fill the vacancy in the old Sixth district, caused by the death of George W. Thibsen.

OUR BAND AT THE STATE FAIR

The northern part of Wisconsin has been given a great deal of attention this year by the Wisconsin State Board of Agriculture and the result will be that the attendance from the upper tier of counties will show the appreciation of the people from this section, when the time rolls around. Through the efforts of A. W. Prehn of Wausau, the tenth district member of the agricultural board, Onea's Fourth Regiment Band of Wausau, the Grand Rapids Band of Grand Rapids and the Tenth District Band of Tenth will furnish a majority of the music for the State Fair, this year.

It is also quite likely that the military companies from Marshfield, Wausau, Grand Rapids, Marinette and Eau Claire will participate in the semi-centennial celebration of the civil war, re-enactment of veterans, military maneuvers and sham battle on September 10th, the closing day of the fair. It is the intention of enthusiastic supporters of Wisconsin's agricultural exposition to run a special train from Marshfield through Wausau and down the Northwestern line to the State Fair, leaving Marshfield early Friday morning and reaching the fair grounds direct, before noon.

The other bands engaged for entertaining the crowds at the State Fair this year are the Watertown Military Band of Watertown, the Marine Band of Manitowish, Olander's Military Band of Milwaukee and Pat Conway's Band of sixty pieces of New York City.

Progressive School District.

School Dist. No. 2, Town of Grand Rapids, better known as the 2 Mile Creek school has added a new addition to the old school building, making it a 2 room school house. The new addition is 20x30 feet and 12 foot high, all to be one room. The old room is 20x38 feet inside measurement. This means two teachers in place of one, adding of course, a little to the expense of the district, but the gain is greater than the loss, for an average of 68 pupils attended school during the last year, too much for any one teacher in a district school with grades ranging from the first class to eighth grade. Hence the new addition will better education for the children of district No. 2.

M. B. Padner has the new part nearly completed in the carpenter line.

The foundation was laid by C. W. Snyder and plastering was done by Walter Cory. All the work is of good workmanship.

School will begin September 10, 1911. The school board officers are Lewis Netzel, Director; R. L. Peterson, Treas., and H. J. Giese, Clerk.

Procedure At Special Town Meetings.

Many special town meetings will be held in the next few days to determine whether towns will vote a tax for state aid roads or bridges to be built in 1912. Procedure in voting these taxes will be the same as in voting taxes at regular town meetings. The question can be presented in the form of a resolution and can be voted on by acclamation or by a division of the house. The majority of the meeting so decide, the question can be voted on by ballot, but this is not necessary. The minimum tax for improving a piece of road is $400; for improving a bridge or bridge is $250. One or both of several taxes can be voted provided the total of all taxes does not exceed 3 mills on the town's valuation, unless by a three-quarters vote the limit is raised to 5 mills. There is no county system of prospective state highways and in the county, taxes can be voted and the town board selects the roads or bridges to be built after the county board selects a system.

An improvement is voted, the town board must apply to the county board through the county clerk on or before September 1st for county aid on the improvement. The State Highway Commission has sent a form of resolution to be used in voting taxes and a form of petition to the county clerk to every town clerk in the state. These or copies of them may be used for the purposes named, and extra copies will be sent to anyone on request to the Wisconsin Highway Commission at Madison.

Marshfield Opposes Carnival.

After unloading all of its belongings in preparation for a weeks show in Marshfield during fair time The Capital City Amusement Company, which visited Grand Rapids two weeks ago, was invited to adjourn last week on account of a feeling of strong opposition among the business men.

It seems that the carnival company had planted itself in the middle of the street, much to the indignation of the citizens.

Some of the members of the ousted company, a little sore over the circumstance, started a small demonstration on Central Avenue, but no harm was done.

Store Will be Soon Complete.

The new Gotschall & Anderson building, on the corner of Grand and Fourth Avenues will probably be ready for occupancy about the first of October, so that winter trade may be carried on in the new quarters.

The main room on the first floor, which will be used for the grocery department, is 36 feet wide, by 66 feet long, and will be floored with the best hard maple.

The flat on the second floor, furnished with all modern conveniences will be occupied by two families who will move in probably near the first of October.

Alumni Meeting.

The second annual alumni meeting of the Grand Rapids High School, will be held Friday evening, September 1, at the Lincoln building. All necessary business will be transacted, including the election of officers and the appointment of committees for the coming year. It is also expected that plans will be made for a social function to be held in the near future.

A meeting this year has been delayed on account of repairs being made at the high school. A large attendance is hoped for Friday.

Death of Mrs. Louise Miller.

Mrs. Louise Miller, an aged resident of Grand Rapids, passed away last Thursday afternoon at the home of her daughter in the Cloverdale Addition. Death was due to paralysis with which the deceased had been suffering for the past five years. The funeral took place Sunday afternoon from the German Lutheran church, Rev. Nommensen officiating.

Improved Appearance.

Both the telephone and Street Car Company have removed their poles from the river bank on the west side and it now presents a very neat appearance. With the assistance of a landscape artist this part of the city could now be fixed up to be as much of an ornament as the park owned by the Consolidated people.

Will Visit Old Home.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Mickelson left on Monday for LaCrosse and Lansing, Iowa, at which latter place he formerly lived. Mr. Mickelson has not been back to the old home for fifteen years and will probably spend a couple of weeks there visiting with friends and relatives.

A Fine Entertainment.

CRANMOOR

(Too Late for Last Week.)

So many of our people were in attendance at the funeral of our lamented Judge, Chas. M. Webb, that the annual crumblers convention held last week was the smallest in numbers in many years. For the same reason, everyone seemed to feel an almost personal loss, it was the most quiet in 1912. Procedure in voting these taxes will be the same as in voting taxes at regular town meetings. The question can be presented in the form of a resolution and can be voted on by acclamation or by a division of the house. The majority of the meeting so decide, the question can be voted on by ballot, but this is not necessary. The minimum tax for improving a piece of road is $400; for improving a bridge or bridge is $250. One or both of several taxes can be voted provided the total of all taxes does not exceed 3 mills on the town's valuation, unless by a three-quarters vote the limit is raised to 5 mills. There is no county system of prospective state highways and in the county, taxes can be voted and the town board selects the roads or bridges to be built after the county board selects a system.

An improvement is voted, the town board must apply to the county board through the county clerk on or before September 1st for county aid on the improvement. The State Highway Commission has sent a form of resolution to be used in voting taxes and a form of petition to the county clerk to every town clerk in the state. These or copies of them may be used for the purposes named, and extra copies will be sent to anyone on request to the Wisconsin Highway Commission at Madison.

PITTSVILLE.

(From the Record.)

During the storm Monday night while Andrew Larson, who lives west of here in Clark County, was driving home from Pittsville with a load he had made purchase of during the afternoon, just west of the farm home of Dan Benfer, a lightning bolt struck a telephone post at the side of the road and stunned him. He remembers seeing one of the horses drop from the shock, and nothing else until he came to again and found the team on a dead run with the lines dragging on the ground. He revived enough to get the horses under control again and after finding his bearings and satisfying himself that he was on the right road, he made haste to get home.

A man from the state engineer's office was in the city Monday morning and inspected the bridge. He was highly satisfied with the work and says that everything is up to specifications. The cement work is not entirely dry yet, but he claims this is a good fault as cement should not dry too quickly. His report means the formal acceptance of the bridge by the state engineer's office for the city. He claims that the bridge is away and beyond the speeded capacity and there never will be a load over it which it will not withstand. In fact, that enough load could not be gotten on the floor to break in the bridge.

Passage across the Yellow River bridge was necessitated last week by the raising of the water in the river. The river got too high to ford and Margal Sverens laid the planks and otherwise got the bridge in readiness for crossing. It was expected that the bridge would be held for inspection by the state engineer's office, and this can yet be done as only the floor of the bridge is now covered.

The Wm. Rendemann farm east of here in the Town of Hanson has been traded for property in Oshkosh, the new man taking possession after the crops have been taken off this fall. Another farm sale to the east of us in the Frank Haul place on the Grand Rapids road near Season Corners, a Miss Theo Stover and W. H. Stine were united in marriage at the Lutheran parsonage by Rev. Gruber Thursday evening at 8:30. They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hongen.

NEKOOSA

(From the Times)

Joseph, the six year old son of Mr. and Mrs. S. Gavro, met with a very painful accident Monday afternoon which while serious, might have resulted fatally. The young lad was on the up-stairs porch, throwing pebbles at his playmate on the porch below. On the ledge, in trying to do the largest amount of divement in the least amount of time, he leaped too far over the balustrade when he lost his balance and fell to the ground below. The fall was through a good bit of distance—space, if you please—and he fell with such force as to do considerable bodily damage.

Mrs. A. E. Laplaine left Monday for South Dakota, where she will spend about ten days looking up property interests there.

H. H. Voss and family left last Saturday noon for Madison, where they visited for several days with Mr. Voss' folks and other friends.

Miss Mary Rusokovsky returned to her home at Chicago last Saturday, after a visit of several days with her sister, Mrs. M. Brandt.

Street Commissioner, Wm. Johns, working under orders from the village council, has made some decided improvements on the public streets within the last two months. He has also cleaned out many sewers and gutters and has in general overhauled and made highways all over town.

Henry E. Fitch left for Milwaukee Tuesday evening, where he attended a meeting of the State Democratic Central Committee on Wednesday, he being the member of the committee from this, the Tenth congressional district.

Mrs. Wm. Hooper and son Harold, returned home Saturday from a four weeks visit with Mrs. Hooper's people at Hamilton, Canada, and with other relatives and friends at Franklin, N. Y., and other eastern points.

RUDOLPH

Chas. Smith, who has been a guest at the Henry Pagel home the past six weeks, returned to his home in Chicago on Friday.

Conrad Evanson spent Thursday attending the fair at Marshfield. Mr. Evanson reports that the fair was not as good this year as in former years.

A large number of our best sports expect to attend the wrestling match at Grand Rapids this Thursday evening between John Little and Bob Frederick.

John Lindahl returned on Sunday from Chicago where he has been in the Angstrom hospital the past two weeks having submitted to an operation. Mr. Lindahl returns home much improved in health.

Will and Lydia Lessig and Mrs. E. Lawrence returned last week from a week's visit in Chicago.

Moon Will Relieve You.

—On Sept. 5th it will again come to Grand Rapids to relieve all who suffer. I am always anxious to meet with such ailments which others call incurable. I use no medicine, no knife as I do not believe in operations. Appendicitis and gall stones especially, should not be operated on, as they can easily be cured with moon treatments. No one should have an operation before consulting me, which will cost them nothing and the chances are they will be relieved from that dreadful knife and expense.

Phillip Yackel.

SIGEL

Those from here who attended the fair at Marshfield last week, were L. Anbarth and son, Freddie E. Hales, J. C. Matthews, Clara and Bruce Laura and Edgar, Leback, Herman Pagel and Marian Trudell.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Schultz are proud parents of another little girl at their home the 19th of this month.

Mrs. J. C. Matthews, Clara and Marie attended mission tent at Vesper Star and North Western.

ARPIN

Arpin was favored by preaching by Mr. Patterson last Sunday. A goodly number came to hear him. Those who could not attend missed a treat. He also preached at Pleasant Hill and Vesper and had a good sized audience. Some were heard to say if they could hear such preaching often they'd sometimes go to church. Thrilling, as progressing very rapidly since it has stopped raining. If it keeps away from Wood County for two weeks more Wood County will have more corn than ever.

The Lutheran services were largely attended and all report a profitable meeting.

Those boys who are around stealing apples and water melons had better watch out as all seem to know who they are.

The farewell party at W. J. Mann's was largely attended last Friday evening.

Mr. Likes expects to start the brick work on his silo soon and when finished will be a silo for generations and not for a lifetime only.

Mr. Hook is expected at Mr. Likes Saturday to join his wife. He has as a month's vacation and will visit with his wife and her people who live in Illinois and Iowa.

Mrs. Robert Morris is much better and we were glad to see her at church Sabbath. Mr. Morris is at Baraboo, on business but expects to be home this week.

Miss Jennie Dakke will teach in Dist. No. 2, Hanson, the 9 months school term beginning Sept. 6th. She is a beginner and although she has made thorough preparation she still used the support of all the school board and all the parents should send their children and no kicking from those who do not. Cooperate with her and she will make good.

B. Whittingham and son leave for the west this week.

"The Cow and the Moon"

—The triumph scored the past four seasons, by Chas. A. Sellow's musical extravaganza is to be duplicated, say the wise ones, by his brilliant new success, "The Cow and the Moon." Like its companion in Mother Goose Lore "The Cow and the Moon" is built along the lines of least resistance to a good hearty laugh and, in the startlingly funny situations involved by the master hand of its creator, depicts an originally eccentric story that will furnish an abundance of fun and laughter.

Mr. Sellow has gained a well merited prominence and reputation as a most acceptable producer or this type of amusement through his complete elimination of all "slap stick" methods and furnishes a welcome surprise to those who have not seen his previous efforts.

From the moment in which the story starts the audience on the hilarious trip from Not Much Ville, Indiana, until it reaches the Moon, there is not a quiet moment.

Either the original scenic effects are reproducing some startling surprise or happy and his aids are in introducing some side racking comedy.

A comical story of a maid, who has never seen a man and of the resulting trials that follow her sudden introduction to the stronger sex; a ludicrous vein of romance, woven deftly in together with interludes by many characters whose surprising antics both hinder and aid the marvelous trip to the Moon furnish a connected story that clearly defines the wonderful scenic transformations and the two numbers interpolated by an originally and handsomely governed boy of beautiful maidens.

The children never get over talking of "The Cow and the Moon" and now will furnish their elders with a most welcome excuse for seeing a musical extravaganza that is a delight to all.

Mr. Sellow has provided a cast of clever principals and a chorus of delightful proportions and sing-alike ability. The score is by Carlisle Lee Colby, whose compositions are much in the public ear of late.

"The Cow and the Moon" is announced for its first appearance here at Daly's Theatre Sunday, Sept. 3. Seats on sale on Wednesday, Aug. 30. Mail orders now.

HAPPY RESULTS.

Have Made Many Grand Rapids Residents Enthusiastic.

No wonder scores of Grand Rapids citizens grow enthusiastic. It is enough to make anyone happy to find relief after years of suffering. Public satisfaction is the following are but truthful representations of the daily work done in Grand Rapids by Doan's Kidney Pills.

Peter Die, 327 Eighth St., N., Grand Rapids, Wis., says: "My experience with Doan's Kidney Pills has been so satisfactory that I can recommend them as an ideal kidney medicine. I had weak kidneys and was annoyed by irregular and distressing passages of urine. After taking your pills I am now healthy and my kidneys are in good working order."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Forster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Little Gordon Onholt weighs 19 lbs. He will soon catch up to his grandpa Winfield Scott.

Miss Ellen Bunde of Grand Rapids, is spending her vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Bunde.

Six men, they being respectively Messrs. Carl Onholt, Alfred Onholt, John Forslund, William Piltz, Ike Hendricks, and John Svenson, started out last Thursday morning to be gone a few days on a fishing trip. They have not been heard of since but what a joke their many friends have to spring on them at their return, for before leaving the city, they were seen carrying a keg of herring from Geo. Dillinger's shop. They caught just what they needed of the keg of herring. Poor fishermen that can't catch enough fish to live on while fishing.

Growers Commence Picking.

Some of the Cranberry growers in the neighborhood of Mather commenced picking their berries last Monday, Aug. 28, which is a week or two earlier than usual. The growers in this section expect to commence work in this line next Monday when it is expected that the berries will be in pretty good condition.

Catches 46 Pound Muskie.

Milwaukee Sentinel:—B. O. L. J. Juntunen, Wis., Aug. 26 (Special).—That northern Wisconsin is a fisherman's paradise is indicated by a report that L. B. Nash of Grand Rapids caught a forty-six pound muskellunge in High Lake. Rice beds are well covered, so that good duck and partridge shooting may be expected.

A large number turned out, and the afternoon was pleasantly spent.

English dairymen have provided a new manner of making livelihood for their professional musicians. They claim that the strains of music while feeding will increase the producing capacity of any herd of cows, as well as enrich their milk. The country dance should become a national and popular pastime in England from this time on, as, by driving their cows to the dance hall, and allowing them to graze on the surrounding green, they will make a profit from their pleasure in America's dairymen do not believe in such a charm.

D. D. Conway has a new model 21 Buick touring car, which he received from the company last week, having traded in his two cylinder machine in the deal.

Attorney Chas. E. Briere was at Strong's Prairie on Friday where he delivered an address on Woodcraft at the annual Woodmen picnic held there that day.

Mrs. Dave Cole of Marshfield visited friends in the city on Monday being on her way home from Delafield and New London, where she had been visiting with friends and relatives.

Archib McMillan, who has been confined to his bed during the past two weeks with typhoid fever, is a trifle better. Mr. McMillan, while well along in years, has a good constitution, and it is expected that he will come out of his trouble all right.

—Ask your neighbor if she has heard of Armor Plate Hosiery. Ask her about the service and long wear. Chances are she'll know for the whole town is beginning to find out the Armor Plate secret. At the Fair, west end of bridge.

Byron B. Park Appointed Circuit Judge.

Byron B. Park of Stevens Point, was appointed last Wednesday by Governor McGovern to succeed the late Judge C. M. Webb as judge of the Seventh Judicial Circuit up to the spring election of 1912, at which time a vote will be taken for the unexpired term.

Byron B. Park, a native of Stevens Point, is recognized by all who have ever met him as an able lawyer, and well fitted for the responsible position which he has been called upon to take. Those who know him intimately recommend him highly as a conscientious, upright, and efficient attorney.

The new appointee has practiced law in this circuit for thirty years, and during that time he has formed a large number of professional as well as personal acquaintances. The many friends of the new judge are well pleased over his appointment, and feel satisfied that he is the man for the place.

During the practice of his profession Mr. Park has been associated with many attorneys and has been retained in many well known cases in this circuit, both civil and criminal. In 1883 he was elected to the office of city attorney at Stevens Point, and the next year he was chosen mayor. Shortly after this he held the position of district attorney for a term of two years.

The record of Mr. Park's career as a lawyer is in itself an ideal recommendation, and his appointment was hailed with satisfaction by his friends.

Soo Will Divide Profits.

Officers of the Soo Railway line have inaugurated a profit sharing plan to allow the employees of the road to buy land on installments that is declared by Minneapolis railroad men to be unique among the various departures over made by railroads of the country.

Land in Taylor, Price and Ashland counties is sold to any employee on a sixty day option. The employee pays $10 for the option on any number of acres he wishes to buy up to eighty. At the end of the sixty days the option is renewed on a second payment of $10, making the payment equal at $6 a month.

When one quarter of the whole purchase price has been paid on the option, payments a land contract is given the employee of the road. This contract calls for the payment of the land at the rate of four payments a year, to be extended over as many years as the employee desires.

Better Method of Dragging Roads.

B. F. McMillan, of Marshfield, is one man who believes in keeping up good roads at any cost, and as an evidence of this fact one has only to look at the road between Marshfield and the village of McMillan. The work was done by Mr. McMillan himself, and in a novel and time saving manner. A King road drag attached to the back of his automobile makes for him an efficient piece of machinery, and with it he makes a practice of smoothing up the highway, not once, but many times a year to clear the road of ruts and holes.

Of course the King road drag can be worked without the aid of the auto, but this little incident is cited to show the efficiency of the machine, which is sold in Wood County by J. B. Merriam, agent.

Pittsville Pleased with New Law.

A new law the result of a bill introduced by Assemblyman W. E. Wheelan at the last session of the state legislature, gives Pittsville the privilege of having but one voting precinct for the three wards. This enactment means money saved for Pittsville at each election, and in the last issue of the Record is a paragraph expressing gratitude for Mr. Wheelan's work in getting the bill through.

Nash Mitchell and F. B. Woodworth were instrumental in petitioning Mr. Wheelan concerning the matter, and according to their testimony the law means hundreds of future dollars saved.

Patients for New Asylum.

Marshfield Herald.—The first installment of patients for Wood County's new insane asylum arrived Tuesday having been sent here from the Marathon county asylum at Wausau. There were three middle aged women and twelve men ranging in age from 25 to 60 years. The entire lot of unfortunate are incurable. No difficulty was met with in transportation. They were accompanied by Superintendent Duncan and wife of the Marathon county asylum and Superintendent Gilson of the local institution and Dr. Fred Waisinski. The fifteen arrivals marks the beginning of the new home for these unfortunate. Mr. Gilson expects many more in the near future.

Your Breakfast Room Made Comfortable With Fuel Supplied the Night Before

Cole's Hot Blast Heater maintains a continuous fire—also a steady even heat. It will hold fire from Saturday night until Monday morning (48 hours) without attention. It will hold fire over night with less coal than any other stove.

Open the drafts in the morning and the rooms are quickly heated with the fuel put in the night before. No other stove does this.

Burns Soft Coal, Slack, Siftings, Hard Coal or Lignite. One ton of either kind of fuel goes further and gives you more comfort than two tons, using any other kind or make of stove.

Your attention is called to the unparalleled statement made by the manufacturer of

Cole's Hot Blast Heating Stove

"For several years we have authorized our Agents to sell Cole's Original Hot Blast Heater on the guarantee as follows:

"1—A saving of one-third in fuel over any lower draft stove of the same size, with soft coal, slack or lignite.

"2—That Cole's Hot Blast will use less hard coal for heating a given space than any other heater made with the same size fire pot.

"3—That the rooms can be heated from one to two hours each morning with the soft coal or hard coal put in the stove the evening before.

"4—That the stove will hold fire with soft coal from Saturday night until Monday morning.

"5—A uniform heat day and night, with soft coal, hard coal or lignite.

"6—That every stove will remain absolutely air-tight as long as used.

"7—That the feed-door is and will remain smoke and dust-proof.

"8—That the Anti-Puffing Draft will prevent puffing.

"All we ask is that the stove shall be operated according to directions and connected with a good flue.

(Signed) COLE MANUFACTURING CO., Inc. (Makers of the Original Patented Hot Blast Stove.)

This remarkable guarantee from the makers of this stove should be of interest to you if you contemplate buying a heating stove.

Years of use has proven that no heater—at twice the price—equals it for radiating heat, for holding fire, requiring so little attention, never giving trouble, and cutting down your coal bill one-third to one-half.

Come in and examine Cole's Original Hot Blast which is now imitated by nearly every other stove manufacturer. Price, $12.00 and upward, according to size.

SYNOPSIS.
Howard Jeffries, banker's son, under the influence of Robert Underwood, a fellow student at Yale, leads a life of dissipation, marries the daughter of a gambler who died in prison, and is disowned by his father. He is out of work and in debt. He is introduced to a woman named Alicia, who is the daughter of a gambler who died in prison. He is introduced to a woman named Alicia, who is the daughter of a gambler who died in prison. He is introduced to a woman named Alicia, who is the daughter of a gambler who died in prison.

"And you know what mine are!" exclaimed the banker, holly. "I refuse to be on the same level as criminals. I will not be stamped with the same hall mark as the man who takes the life of his fellow being—though the man be my own son. I will not set the seal of approval on crime by defending it."

The lawyer bowed and said calmly: "Then, sir, you must expect exactly what is happening. This girl, whatever she may be, is devoted to your son. She is his wife. She'll go to any extreme to help him—even to selling her name for money to pay for his defense. I have seen her hands with my own eyes."

"It's a matter of principle with me. For devotion is not the question. With a mocking laugh he went on: "Sentimentality doesn't appeal to me. The whole thing is a matter of principle. I will not let my name be used to help a scoundrel. I will not let my name be used to help a scoundrel. I will not let my name be used to help a scoundrel."

"Except the price she asks," interrupted the lawyer, dryly. Shaking his head, he went on: "I find that a wife's devotion is a very strong motive power, Jeffries. It will move irresistibly forward in spite of all the barriers you and I can erect to stay its progress. That may sound like a platitude, but it's a fact nevertheless."

Alicia, who had been listening with varied emotions to the conversation, now interrupted mildly: "Perhaps Judge Brewster is right, dear. After all, the girl is working to save your son. Public opinion may think it unbecoming. Please let that be that. Turning to the lawyer, he said coldly: "So, in the matter of this stage business, you can take no steps to restrain her?"

The lawyer shook his head. "No, there is nothing I can do. Quickly he added: "Of course, you don't doubt my loyalty to you?"

Mr. Jeffries shook his head. "No, no, Brewster."

The lawyer laughed as he said: "Right or wrong, you know—my country—that is, my client—has added, then. Turning to the painful part of a lawyer's profession, Mrs. Jeffries, the client's weakness is the lawyer's strength. When men hate each other and rob each other we lawyers don't pacify them. We dare not, because that is our profession. We encourage them. We pit them against each other. We do it until they don't go to some lawyer who would."

Alicia gave a feeble smile. "Yes," she replied; "I'm afraid we all love to be advised to do what we want to do."

Mr. Jeffries made an impatient gesture of dissent. Scoldingly he remarked: "What may apply to the great majority of people, but not to me."

Judge Brewster looked skeptical, but made no further comment. The banker rose and Alicia followed suit. As he moved toward the door, he turned and said: "Drop in again some time this evening. Mrs. Jeffries will be delighted if you will dine with us."

Alicia smiled graciously. "Do come, Judge; we shall be all alone."

The lawyer bent low over her hand as he said good-by. Mr. Jeffries had already reached the door, when he turned again and said: "Are you sure a very liberal offer wouldn't induce her to drop the name?"

"It's Your Duty to Do It."

The lawyer shook his head doubtfully. "Well, see what you can do," cried the banker. To his wife he said: "Are you coming, Alicia?"

"Just a moment, dear," she replied. "I want to say a word to the judge."

"All right," replied the banker. "I'll be outside."

He opened the door, and as he did so he turned to the lawyer and said: "If there are any new developments let me know at once."

He left the office and Alicia breathed a sigh of relief. She did not love her husband, but she feared him. He was not only 20 years her senior, but his cold, aristocratic manner intimidated her. Her first impulse had been to tell him everything, but she dared not. His manner discouraged her. He would begin to ask questions, questions which she could not answer without seriously incriminating herself. But her conscience would not allow her to stand entirely aloof from the tragedy in which her husband was involved. She felt a great, unaccountable desire to meet this girl Howard had married. In a quick undertone to the lawyer, she said: "I must see that woman, Judge. I think I can persuade her to change her course of action. In any case, I must see her. I must see her. I must see her."

Looking at him keenly, she said: "You don't think it inadvisable, do you?"

The judge smiled grimly. "I think I'd better see her first," he said. "Suppose you come back a little later. It's more than probable that she'll be here this afternoon. I'll see her and arrange to let her see you. There was a knock at the door, and Alicia called guiltily, thinking her husband might have overheard her conversation. The head clerk entered and whispered something to the judge, after which he retired. The lawyer turned to Alicia with a smile. "It's just as I thought," he said. "You'd better go and leave her to me."

The door opened again unceremoniously, and Mr. Jeffries put in his head. "Aren't you coming, Alicia?" he demanded, impatiently. "I'm a lawyer, and I'm a lawyer," he added. "Say, Brewster, that woman is outside in your office. Now is your opportunity to come to some arrangement with her."

Again Mrs. Jeffries held out her hand. "Good-by, Judge; you're so kind. I needn't say of patience to the lawyer, doesn't it?"

Judge Brewster laughed, and added in an undertone: "Come back by and by."

The door closed, and the lawyer went back to his desk. For a few moments he sat still, plunged in deep thought. Suddenly, he touched a bell. The head clerk entered. "Show Mrs. Howard Jeffries, Jr., in," the clerk looked surprised. Strict orders hitherto had been to show the unwelcome visitor out. He believed that he had not heard aright. "Did you say Mrs. Jeffries, Jr., Judge?"

"I said Mrs. Jeffries, Jr.," replied the lawyer, grimly. "Very well, Judge," said the clerk, as he left the room.

Presently there was a timid knock at the door. "Come in," called out the lawyer.

CHAPTER XV.

Annie entered the presence of the famous lawyer pale and ill at ease. This sudden summons, to Judge Brewster's private office, was so unexpected that she felt like a shock. For she had been haunted by the premises, sitting in the outer office for hours at a time exposed to the stare and covert smiles of thoughtless clerks and office boys. Her requests for an interview had been met with curt refusals. They either said the judge banker had come out accompanied by a richly-dressed woman whom she guessed to be his wife.

She looked with much interest at Howard's daughter. She had heard so much about her that it seemed to her that she knew her personally. As Alicia swept proudly by, the eyes of the two women met, and Annie was surprised to see in the banker's wife's face, instead of the cold, haughty stare she expected, a wistful, longing look, as if she would like to stop and talk with her, but dare not. In another instant she was gone, and, obeying a clerk, who beckoned her to follow him, she entered Judge Brewster's office.

The lawyer looked up as she came in, but did not move from his seat. "Gruffy," he said.

"How long do you intend to keep up this system of warfare? How long are you going to continue forcing your way into this office?"

"I didn't force my way in," she said, quietly. "I didn't expect to come in. The clerk said you wanted to see me."

The lawyer frowned and scrutinized her closely. After a pause, he said: "I want to tell you for the fifth time I can do nothing for you."

"Fifty?" she echoed. "Fifty did you say?" Really, it doesn't seem that much."

Judge Brewster looked at her quickly to see if she was laughing at him. Almost peevishly, he said: "For the last time, I repeat. I can do nothing for you."

"Not the last time, Judge," she replied, shaking her head. "I shall come again to-morrow."

The lawyer swung around in his chair with indignation. "Annie told—"

"You will—"

"Yes, sir," she said, quietly. "You're determined to force your way in here?" exclaimed the lawyer.

"Yes, sir," she said, quietly. "I don't want to tell you for the fifth time I can do nothing for you."

"But I won't allow it! I have something to say, you know! I can't permit this to go on. I repeat my client, Mr. Howard Jeffries, Sr., and he'll consent to my taking up your husband's case."

There was a shade of alarm in Annie's voice as she asked calmly: "Can't you do it without his consent?"

The lawyer looked at her grimly. "The law," he blurted out. "But I won't."

Her eyes flashed as she replied quickly. "Well, you ought to—"

The lawyer looked up in amazement. "What do you mean?" he demanded. "You're duty to do it," she said, quietly. "You're duty to his son, to an old boy. They drifted together. When daylight came they could see boats and they shouted until they were exhausted, but could not make themselves heard or seen. They were tortured by thirst. Salt water got into their mouths. They drifted all day. Why, when I was hunting around for a lawyer one of them actually refused to take up the case because he said old Brewster must think Howard was guilty or he'd have taken it up himself. You and his father are against the whole world against him."

"The judge was staggered. No one in his recollection had ever dared to speak to him like that. He could not help but feel that to resist it, astonished that he forgot to resist it, and he hid his confusion by taking out his handkerchief and mopping his forehead.

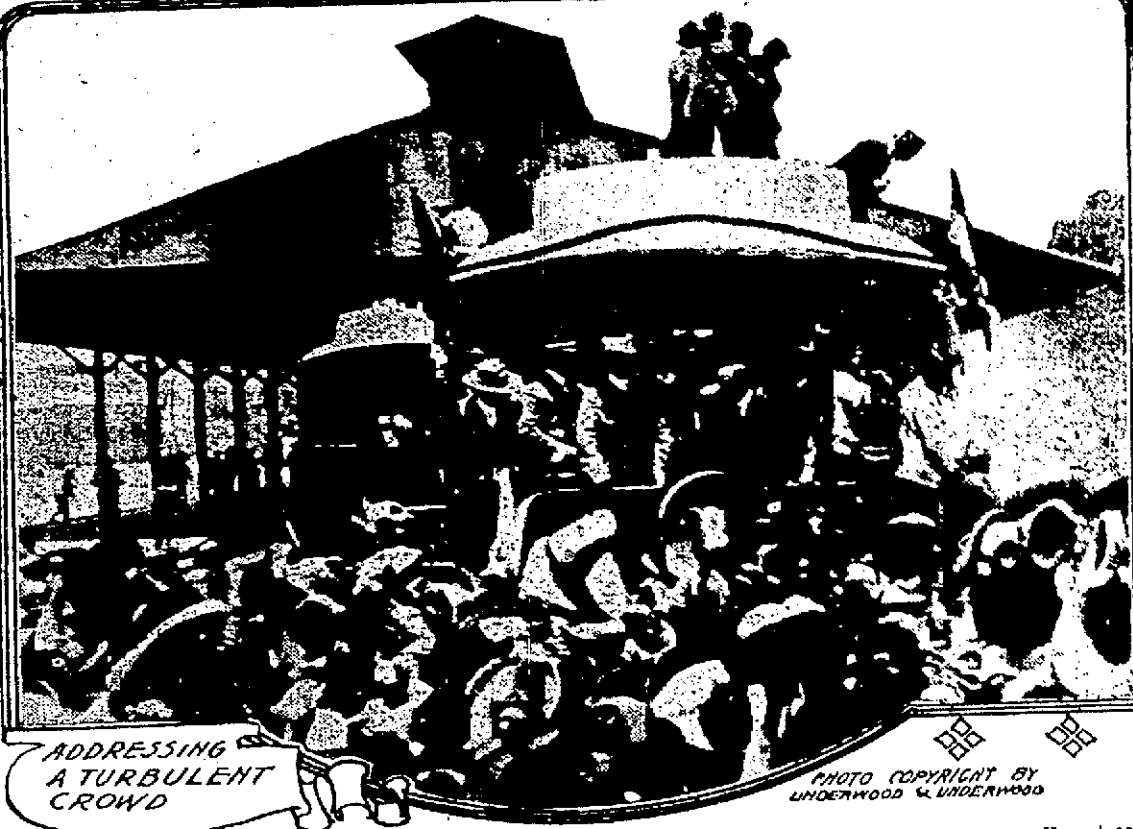

"I do know it," he admitted. "Then, why do you do it?" she snapped.

The lawyer hesitated, and then he said: "That's not the question."

Annie leaped quickly forward, and she replied: "It's my question—and as you say, I've asked it 50 times."

The lawyer sat back in his chair and looked at her for a moment without speaking. He surveyed her critically from head to foot, and then, as if satisfied with his examination, said: "Be seated."

Tossed About on Open Sea for Forty Hours.

He Had Been Maddened by Fear of Sharks and by the Lost Chances of Rescue—He Had Done His Best He Could.

Manila, P. I.—When the ship Polat went down off Malabon, Philippine islands, recently Alejandro Lorenzo jumped clear of the wreck. After an hour's swimming he found a hatch cover on which he rested. Then he started toward San Nicholas, pushing the hatch cover ahead of him. He was nearly successful and was just reaching shallow water when the tide carried him out to sea again. As night came the wind increased and the waves tossed him and his hatch cover back and forth until he thought it would be impossible for him to hold his support, but toward midnight he found that he was being washed toward the Cavite shore. Just as his hope was strong the tide wind carried him to sea again. He struggled against them, but was swept out. Something brushed against his leg. He thought it a shark and screamed in fear.

"I did not touch me again or I should have gone mad."

The water was cold, the night dark and the rain beat down on him. He heard a cry in the darkness and pushed his hatch cover in the direction from which it sounded. Toward morning he found a Filipino boy, another survivor of the wreck, clinging to an oil box. They drifted together. When daylight came they could see boats and they shouted until they were exhausted, but could not make themselves heard or seen. They were tortured by thirst. Salt water got into their mouths. They drifted all day. Bass Killing Off Salmon

Seattle, Wash.—Men engaged in the salmon industry in this state and Oregon are vastly excited over the discovery that their livelihood is threatened by the ravages of bass. There is a demand that immediate measures be taken to exterminate the latter fish.

It was only a few years ago when in response to the agitation of sportsmen and anglers who wanted more variety in fish, bass fry were imported in large quantities and were planted in various inland waters and the rivers. It appears that they have multiplied at an astonishing rate and at the present time the season they were rearing is the very plentiful. Recently the salmon men made the discovery that has dismayed them. The bass have penetrated far up the Columbia river and its tributaries and have been feasting on young salmon.

John M. Crawford, superintendent of the fish hatcheries of Washington state, tells of the ravages he has observed. The hatcheries he conducts are of great importance to the industry. They were started because it was discovered that the trout had havoc with the young salmon. In big bottles similar to each other in his automobile case, one containing cyanide of potassium, the other sodium phosphate.

Vancouver.—At the summer session of the Washington Daily Newspaper League officers were re-elected as follows: President, Frank H. Noyes; Vice-president, Oscar J. Hardy; Secretary, J. H. Noyes; Treasurer, H. H. Bliss of Jacksonville. The next meeting will be held in Milwaukee in November.

Jefferson.—Jefferson county's old soldiers held their ninth annual reunion in Courthouse park. Addresses were made by former Gov. W. D. Hoard, former Congressman S. A. Cook, former Senator J. A. Hinkley and others. F. A. Pointe was re-elected president and George Turner of Jefferson secretary.

Kronosh.—The body of the infant son of Mrs. Anna Magdalen, for which the police have been searching, was found in a box in the basement of the house where Mrs. Magdalen lived. Only a few minutes before the body of the baby was found the mother had started for the state prison at Waupun to serve an eighteen months' term.

Marquette.—An iron bar with human hair clinging to it, found at the Wierlewicki home by Deputy Sheriff Ballert, is the strongest evidence the state has secured against anyone in seeking to solve the mystery of the murder of Wierlewicki.

Madison.—The Wisconsin state civil service commission announced a competitive examination for candidates for first assistant attorney general at a salary of $2,000 a year, to succeed A. C. Tullis, who is sick. In October the examination will be held throughout the state for local income tax assessors, salaries $500 to $2,500.

Sheboygan.—Joseph Kolb, one of the few survivors from the Pere Marquette ferry, No. 18, which was wrecked off Sheboygan about a year ago, met with perhaps a fatal accident on board the Pere Marquette No. 18, on route from Manitowish to Ladysburg. Kolb was an officer on the ferry when it was wrecked. He was in a revolving shaft and when Chief Engineer Brown found him he was unconscious, with all his clothing excepting his shoes and stockings stripped from his body.

Winter.—If it helps any to have a lot of extra fingers and toes the seventh child of Mr. and Mrs. Dave McDonald, who live near Barber Lake, will have a big advantage over the rest of mankind when the little one gets old enough to use multitudinous digits to his advantage. Unlike youngsters has seven fingers on each hand and an equal number of toes on each foot, and an even half dozen not counting the great toe on each foot.

Madison.—The Wisconsin Live-stock Breeders' association will maintain headquarters at the state fair in Milwaukee September 12 to 18. This was decided by the directors. State Senator John S. Donald of Mount Horeb is president and M. B. Jones of Rockdale secretary of the association.

Racine.—In an electric storm lightning hit and partly wrecked the steeple of the First Congregational church. Other places were damaged.

Madison.—The Wisconsin state civil service commission announced a competitive examination for candidates for first assistant attorney general at a salary of $2,000 a year, to succeed A. C. Tullis, who is sick. In October the examination will be held throughout the state for local income tax assessors, salaries $500 to $2,500.

Sheboygan.—Joseph Kolb, one of the few survivors from the Pere Marquette ferry, No. 18, which was wrecked off Sheboygan about a year ago, met with perhaps a fatal accident on board the Pere Marquette No. 18, on route from Manitowish to Ladysburg. Kolb was an officer on the ferry when it was wrecked. He was in a revolving shaft and when Chief Engineer Brown found him he was unconscious, with all his clothing excepting his shoes and stockings stripped from his body.

Winter.—If it helps any to have a lot of extra fingers and toes the seventh child of Mr. and Mrs. Dave McDonald, who live near Barber Lake, will have a big advantage over the rest of mankind when the little one gets old enough to use multitudinous digits to his advantage. Madison.—The Wisconsin Live-stock Breeders' association will maintain headquarters at the state fair in Milwaukee September 12 to 18. This was decided by the directors. State Senator John S. Donald of Mount Horeb is president and M. B. Jones of Rockdale secretary of the association.

Racine.—In an electric storm lightning hit and partly wrecked the steeple of the First Congregational church. Other places were damaged.

Fine Fox Hunt Without Witnesses

The East Essex bounds had a remarkable run recently. A fox which they had hunted through the village of Bradwell, swam the Backwater, and the pack followed, but the depth of water and the dangerous banks prevented the field from crossing. They had to go for two miles along the bank until they reached a bridge, and by the time they had crossed fox and pack had vanished. After a search of two miles from the place where they had crossed the river whithering round a barn at Chalkey Wood, beneath which the fox had gone to earth.

Mr. R. D. Hill, the master, called the hounds off and gave the fox a glimpse for the splendid run he had given them. The best of 50 minutes. The East Essex, having had this season, was the description of Cockayne, the Town is Plowed Up.

Little Rock, Ark.—The town of Little Rock, a few miles west of here, sold a thousand acres of farm lands to an Oklahoma firm. The streets and yards have been plowed up and turned into corn and cotton fields. Little Rock is the largest city in the promised to be a great city in the early days. It was an old Indian territory, and was a stopping place for stagecoaches. When the railroad came the town went down hill until its thousands of inhabitants and weekly newspaper went glimmering. INFLAMMATION AND PAIN

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Creston, Iowa.—"I was troubled for a long time with inflammation, pains in my side, sick headaches and nervousness. I had been so many months that I was discouraged and almost gave up. A friend told me of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I tried it. I have no more pain, my nerves are stronger and I can do my own work. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cured me after everything else had failed, and I recommend it to other suffering women."—Mrs. Wm. Seals 605 W. Howard St., Creston, Iowa.

Thousands of unsolicited and genuine testimonials like the above prove the efficiency of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which is made exclusively from roots and herbs.

Women who suffer from these distressing ills should not lose sight of these facts or doubt the ability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore their health.

Tuberculosis Patients Neglected. Out of more than 225 public hospitals for the insane, with a population of fully 150,000, only 70, or less than one-third, make any provision for their tuberculous inmates, and this, too, in spite of the fact that the percentage of deaths from this disease is very high among this class of people. Such is the substance of a statement made recently by the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis. Seventy hospitals in 28 states, providing all told about 5,350 beds for tuberculous insane patients, sum up the provision made for this class of sufferers, although the percentage of deaths from tuberculosis among the insane ranges from 50 to 800 per cent. higher than among the general population.

NOTES From MEADOWBROOK FARM

By William Pitt

Weeds can be kept under by frequent cultivation. Clip off the tops of early celery plants in the seed bed. The best chemical to use for killing Canada thistles is coarse salt. Irregular feeding is sure to injure the calf and check its development. The idle curry comb and the fat horse seldom live in the same barn. Orchards in full bearing may be seeded to grass and pastured with sheep.

The dairy cow is worth more than the best steer whatever way you look at her.

Cows do not enjoy being milked by one whose finger nails are long and sharp.

Whenever you discover a sheep limping along, catch him and examine his feet for rot.

The old spring houses that are found on many farms tell of the early experiences in dairying.

Cantaloupes, watermelons and citron can only be profitably grown in a deep mellow loam soil.

By sowing a pinch of lettuce seed every ten days there will always be tender salad on the table.

The winter dairyman is the coming man, but he cannot afford to milk in a cold, dirty stable or barn.

Train the calf before he is six months old and you can control his disposition when he is older.

Breeding ewes should not be too fat; see that they are in a strong, healthy and vigorous condition.

Pick out the breed you like best and stick to it; study up everything you can about that particular breed.

One of the difficult problems for the poultryman to solve is how to easily provide pure, fresh water for his fowls.

Few dairymen realize the tremendous significance of the cream trade that has been developed during the past few years.

If you want to raise a good crop of fowls and insects that will damage the orchard trees, let the weeds and grass lie thick on the ground.

Watch weevil places in the fowls. Makes one feel mean and it is provoking besides to have cows break into the field of a neighbor.

The cows should be milked in the barn during the summer, but the barn should be kept just as clean as it is in the winter time.

Keep the cultivator busy. Don't let the weeds get ahead of you. Remember that they use the plant food that should go into your crops.

Be sure that you furnish proper quarters for the farrowing sow. You can't afford to lose a single one of the little "squealers" this season.

Never give drugs to a horse any more than you would to a baby unless he is downright sick. Shutting off his feed will cure all minor ills.

No cow can do her best or even keep up a normal flow of milk when compelled to stand out in the hot midday sun of August and fight the flies.

One of the most important things in running a dairy successfully is brains. Brains must be applied by every branch of work if the best profit is to follow.

The weak and wobbly fence is an invitation to the cattle to try the other side, and it always works in hardship, especially so during the busy season of the year.

No farm should be without some sheep; they clean up the weeds, make fine fertilizers and wool, and produce lambs, all of which may be turned in to a good profit.

Diversified farming is adapted to the man who does intensive thinking. The intensive thinker is always a success as a farmer or in any other occupation where talents lead him.

The pig that has been supplied with an abundance of pasture and a small grain ration during the summer should weigh from 150 to 175 pounds by the latter part of September.

After farm, at Yards, Pa., markets about 20,000 green ducks annually. The ducks are dressed, try-picked and shipped to market in barrels at ten weeks old. The chicken plant is larger than the duck farm.

Early maturing pullets should be extra well fed; they are making growth as well as eggs, so don't stint them, and if they don't lay quite as soon as you think they should, remember that the food eaten is making flesh and bone, and that they will be better size than if they ate the precocious.

Duck eggs are in demand by confectioners, as they import a glaze to their icing, which cannot be had with hen's eggs. For making pound pudding, duck eggs are more economical than those of fowls, being both larger in size and richer.

Too many chicks in one yard, cooped or housed in dissection. Older chicks will trample on and crowd out younger ones, and the ones last hatched stand small show for feed, growth or even life. It is best to separate broods widely over the orchard.

In grading up the chickens call but the most vigorous.

Mutton breed lambs should receive grain as early as possible.

Women are better fitted by nature than men for poultry keeping.

Not enough attention has been given to the character of seed corn.

The best fertilizer for asparagus is rotted manure from grain-horses.

The farm is the ideal place for growing all kinds of poultry for meat and eggs.

Feed your fowls a sufficient amount of animal food, plenty of vegetables and bulky foods.

Young trees must be carefully cultivated, kept clear of weeds and the soil loose and mellow.

To dispose of a crop of satisfactory prices is often a more difficult problem than to produce it.

A horse that is too straight in his posture jars himself and gets all the concussion of the road.

The thermometer must be used as regularly in the dairy during the summer as during the winter.

It weakens the horses to keep them shut up in a close stable during the hot nights. Turn them out.

If a soil lacks water some form of fertilizers are a positive detriment if they are present in abundance.

It is common sense that a mature sow will produce larger and more perfect pigs than a very young one.

Butter made in a sanitary dairy is always easier to keep than that which is made under poor conditions.

Don't let the buck run with the does when the breeding season is over, but confine him in a pen by himself.

Dairy-bred stock is scarce, and it will take many years to apply the rapidly increasing demand for dairy-bred cattle.

Beans can be turned into cash the quickest of any farm crop, as it is possible to sell them in ninety days from planting.

Hogs will not thrive on sour and decomposed food any more than men will. See that they get fresh, clean water to drink.

Cabbage is one of the easiest vegetables to start from seed and to transplant and to be made to grow in the garden or field.

An incubator will not run itself any more than an automobile will. A human brain must stand back of the best machine invented.

Women as a rule are more progressive and quicker to seize a new idea and put it into practice in the poultry yard than the sterner sex.

Plenty of coal ashes where the fowls can roll and scratch in them will settle the lice question, without the use of powder or liquid lice exterminators.

The fall fresh cow is the preferable one and if you have not come to realize this, just try it this year and see if you will not be readily converted.

Burnshine is necessary in the milk house in the winter time, but just now all the shade that can be found will be acceptable. Trees and vines help.

The condition and the appearance of the creamery should be the very best for this will have an influence in getting favorable market for the butter.

Spring is the natural time for young animals to be born and they do better, all other things being equal, when they are ushered into this world at that time of year.

It pays to supply the fowls, especially growing ones, with charcoal, ground bone, either fresh or dry; oyster and clam shells, and a continual supply of best grit.

A good way to avoid the credit system is to grow the living at home. It is usually possible to grow the most expensive, yet the most necessary, articles of food on the farm.

At our present rate of deforestation fuel and fencing materials will be very scarce within a few years. Plant shade lands in forest trees to supply the timber required on the farm.

Arrange to save seed of the best varieties of potatoes, pumpkins, squashes and other garden products for next season's planting. Then you will be sure of plenty of good seed.

Many fall with sheep because they fail to keep the breeds that are best adapted to their farms and do not raise the kind that the market demands and is ready to pay the highest price for.

Save the droppings from the poultry house. Fertilizer of equal value if bought on the market will cost you $30 or more a ton. For the easier gathering and handling of this fertilizer, a platform of boards should be placed under the roosts. This platform should be scraped clean at least twice a week.

Young calves need whole milk for the first few days. The calf should always have the first or colostrum milk of the cow and be allowed to nurse the cow until the eighth or ninth milking, when the milk is suitable for human food. Feed often with small amounts, to avoid overfeeding. Teach the calf to drink and feed whole milk for at least three weeks, changing to a skim-milk diet gradually.

Most farmers raise chickens by the natural process, and that is all right so long as you do not care to raise more than say 100 chickens, but when you get up into large numbers and incubators are necessary.

Don't allow hogs to be crowded in their sleeping quarters. Overcrowding results in coughs, lung fever and quite frequently in the smaller or weaker hogs becoming diseased and dying. Hogs are more susceptible to disease than other animals, but if allowed to root for their living, the fighting power is not great.

VIRGINIA IN THE CITY

By PHILIP KEAN

(Copyright, 1911, by Associated Literary Press.)

For hours the girl had walked through the city streets, hot, dusty, tired, hungry. She sought work, but could not find it.

Everywhere she was turned away. They wanted only those who had held similar positions, and Virginia, fresh from the country, could claim no knowledge which would be of use to her in town.

It seemed to her that the tall buildings on each side of the street frowned ominously. As evening came she had a weak's rest for her room. Dinner was out of the question, and she had had no breakfast or lunch.

It was with a gasp of relief, therefore, that she spoke to a boy who stood on the corner under a street lamp.

"Why, Billy Locke," she said, "is it really you?"

"It sure is," he said heartily and grasped her hands. "But what on earth are you doing in town, Virginia?"

She told him her little story. The aunt with whom she had lived had died, and Virginia was unwilling to be a burden in the homes of outsiders.

"But I can't find work, Billy," she said.

He was only twenty-one but he had a man's discernment of a woman's need of protection.

"You oughtn't to be running around these streets alone," he said gravely. "You'd better let me take you back to your boarding house right now."

"It is not a boarding house," she informed him. "I just have a room there and take my meals out."

"Have you had your dinner?" he demanded.

She flushed. "No-o," she stammered.

"You come right in and have something to eat," he commanded.

She would let Billy order nothing for her but glass of milk and some crusty rolls. He urged upon her a more elaborate feast, but her independence made it impossible for her to accept too much of the boy who had been only a casual acquaintance in her home town.

"What are you doing?" she asked him. He had a fairly good position in the packing department of a big store.

"Some day I want to go back home and have a store of my own," he said. "I don't care much about living in the city."

"It would be lovely here if I only had money," Virginia said, but Billy shook his head.

"It ain't any place for people like us. We are better off in small places. I don't care to tell you how much I like home."

"I have just got to find work," she said desperately. Then her eyes brightened. "I believe you have brought me luck," she exclaimed.

"How?" Billy demanded.

She pointed to a sign on the wall. "Billy, remember, her refined home surroundings, expostulated. 'Oh, you wouldn't take a position here, would you?'"

But she did take it. There was a head waiter, a young man of some what sporty appearance, who passed her on, when she questioned him, to the woman at the desk. Arrangements were made for Virginia to come the next morning, so Billy took her home promising to see her soon.

"Virginia did not care to tell him how much she loved him, but she begged her to let him write to her people and make arrangements for her to go home."

"It makes me sick to see you working here," he said.

"I needn't," she told him. "We get good things to eat, and I have a comfortable room, and tomorrow I am going to buy myself a new dress and a hat."

She hoped when she told him that he would ask her to go out with him to the theater or to some of the restaurants where some of the other girls went.

But he did not do anything so dazzling. He blushed and whispered, "Will you walk in the park with me on Sunday?"

She consented, wondering if he were sincere. He sure had a way with money as the head waiter, who invited her to go with him on Saturday night to see a play at a near-by theater.

This was the kind of invitation she craved, and she accepted gladly.

On their way to the theater they passed Billy Locke. He bowed, and Virginia saw the astonishment in his eyes. "Serves him right for not taking me himself," was her thought as she tossed her head, but all the evening his miserable face haunted her.

The head waiter proved to be poor company. He was not in Virginia's class and his conversation was limited.

Virginia, however, made another engagement with him for the following Saturday, and the next day when she went with Billy Locke to the park, she told him of it.

"He's awfully nice, he is so generous," was her statement.

"Perhaps he's generous," poor Billy said, "because he hasn't anything ahead of him to save for."

"I should think a man who cared for a girl would want to give her a good time," said Virginia.

For a moment Billy was silent. Then he faced her. "Look here, Virginia," he said, "I want to take you back home and put you in a little house of your own, and care for you for the rest of your life. And I can't do it if I spend money on you now. I cannot bear to see you in a place that you don't belong, like that luncheon room. It isn't the place for a lady like you, and that head waiter is no good either. I don't like to see you with him and I don't think you ought to go with him, Virginia."

He spoke with a vehemence that astonished Virginia. She had not dreamed that Billy had it in him. "Why, Billy Locke," she gasped, "I didn't suppose you thought about me that way."

"Well I do," said Billy, earnestly. "I love you and I want to marry you. You would let me, wouldn't you? I have enough to take us both back where we want to be. Will you wait till then, Virginia?"

She hesitated. "Oh, I can't say what I will do right now, Billy."

She thought it over and the vision of the little home among the hills came to her when, on the hot days, she served luncheons to a ravenous populace.

SCENE OF SUCCESS

Where Grant Received His Commission as General.

Old Lindsay Cabin Headquarters Where He Planned the Campaign Which Won Promotion and Started Great Career.

Ironton, Mo.—Of all the events of the Civil war that are being recalled in the half-century anniversary, revival of interest, few are of more general interest than the story of Gen. U. S. Grant's receiving his commission as Brigadier-General on Missouri soil.

A movement has been started to purchase the site at Ironton of the delivery of this commission for a national park.

The campaign which Gen. Grant planned at the cabin which was his first headquarters as general brought him advancement from Brigadier-General to Major-General and was the real beginning of his career as a victorious commander.

A graduate of West Point, who had served in the Mexican war, Grant had left the army because he could not support his family on his salary. He tried farming near St. Louis, became a real estate agent without much financial success, and in 1860 moved his family to Galena, Ill., where he became a clerk in his father's leather store.

At the outbreak of the Civil war he drilled a company organized at Galena, and accompanied them to Springfield, where it was incorporated into a regiment.

Gov. Yates obtained Grant's services as inspector of state troops to report to the government, and when President Lincoln issued the second call for volunteers Grant was sent to Mattoon to muster in the regiment, of which he became colonel.

He has confessed that he was not confident of the outcome of his first skirmish, but he found his opposing officer had less confidence and had retreated before Grant and his men arrived. Grant said that the memory of that incident always gave him courage when preparing to make an attack or when in the thick of the fighting.

August 8 Grant arrived with his regiment at Ironton, to relieve Col. B. Gratz Brown, who later became governor of Missouri and who was a vice-presidential candidate in 1872.

August 14, President Lincoln signed the commission of Brigadier-General Grant, and this fact was telegraphed from Washington to Ironton. Grant was encamped near a spring on the James Lindsay property, not far from the Iron County courthouse. When Lindsay learned that Grant had become a general, he moved Mrs. Lindsay and her babies to his farm near Pilot Knob and tendered his own chinked log home to Gen. Grant as his headquarters. The offer was accepted and the Lindsay cabin became the first headquarters of Gen. Grant, although he spent a large part of his time sitting at an old pine table in the shade of an oak tree in the yard working out plans for a campaign. It was while sitting in the shade of the now historic Grant oak that he received by mail, August 14, the commission of which he had been notified by telegram. August 30, Grant took leave of his regiment on the river campaign, which won his promotion to major-general of volunteers in February, 1862. His later achievements are history.

The Grant headquarters premises have been known for many years as "Emerson Park," the late Judge J. W. Emerson having acquired the property and erected a fine brick residence on the site of the log house. In 1882 the surviving members of Gen. Grant's regiment erected a statue of a federal soldier to mark the spot where he received his commission.

The property is now owned by J. H. York, who maintains it as his residence, but a movement has been started to have the government purchase this property and the battlefield at Fort Davidson, a mile away, as national parks.

Mrs. Lindsay, whose humble home was Gen. Grant's first headquarters, lives in St. Louis, but visits the thrilling scenes of her young motherhood each summer.

Lindsay, who died several years ago, was a union supporter and active in the Ironton Home Guards. He intimately knew all the surrounding country, and did some valuable scouting for Gen. Grant, who rode over to the farm several times to see that all was well with Mrs. Lindsay and her babies during Lindsay's absence.

Disrobed by Lightning. Grover, Colo.—Mrs. Hazelletta Wilson, living ten miles northwest of Grover, was struck by lightning and every stitch of her clothing and her shoes were torn from her body. The bolt melted the bowl of a spoon she was holding, leaving the handle in her grasp. "Not a mark was made on her body," she was unconscious for some time.

$50 Thumb-Nail Insurance. Newton, N. J.—Charles Helmsay finds his thumb-nail far more effective for his profession than any grainer's tool. Thinking he might lose this novel tool by accident and have to patiently await regrowth thereof, he took out an insurance policy for $50 thereupon.

U. S. Troops Lauded for Patrol. Washington, D. C.—Col. J. H. Dorst, commanding the Third United States Cavalry, has issued an order commending his regiment for their work in patrolling the Rio Grande border between Feb. 1 and June 30, they rode 119,000 miles along the American side of the river.

WHERE MARLOWE IS BURIED

Famous Old Church in London Has Innumerable Other Historic Associations.

Mr. C. A. Montague Barlow, M. P., Mr. E. B. Montgomery, mayor of Deptford, and Rev. Arthur Hart, vicar of Deptford, write: "May we earnestly commend to your readers the serious condition of the great historic church of St. Nicholas, Deptford. The church has been condemned as unsafe by the London county council under the dangerous structures act. In consequence the poor have been deprived of their church. We appeal to your readers to help us in the work of restoration, which will cost $5,000."

"The history of the church is unique. It is bound up and identified with the Spanish Armada and its defeat. It was in this parish that Sir John Hawkins lived and devoted his energies to the outfitting of the ships for war. In this church the admirals of the fleet met to worship before setting out to meet the foe. Here Evelyn and Pepys (the diarists) and Sir Francis Drake were constant worshippers. In this parish Evelyn died, and Evelyn's obituary notice (the world-renowned wood engraver) and some of his greatest work is to be seen in the old church, including his magnificent representation of Ezekiel's vision: 'The Valley of Dry Bones.' The church is rich with associations in the making of the British empire. It is the Westminster Abbey of the British navy. Within its walls rested (the tower of the frieze, the precursor of the modern cruiser) lies buried.

"Many of the greatest naval heroes and their resting place here. William Hawkins, brother to Sir John Hawkins, Edward Fenton, the notable Elizabethan explorer, who commanded the admiral's flagship in the fight with Spain; Froisher, Sir Francis Rozier, Captain Shelyocke, and many of Devon's naval worthies are buried here. Also Sir John Churchill, first Duke of Marlborough, the celebrated dramatist and contemporary of Shakespeare. Under his shadow Peter the Great, the emperor of Russia, learned the art of shipbuilding. The Duke of Wellington often visited the church with the Trinity brethren."—London Daily Telegraph.

Let Fortune Escape Him

"Old Man Cheney." Sold Land for a Song, but Does Not Seem to Regret It.

One of the reasons that the old New England farmers were forced to abandon their homesteads is that they did not conserve their resources. Through lack of foresight they sold for small sums property which was afterward immensely valuable.

But we have one citizen whose unfortunate lack of foresight even we can appreciate. He is close to ninety years old now, and last Fourth of July he sold his goodly homestead, a well-landed in which General Grant was hailed by eight pairs of horses from Princeton to the Prolific house on his famous tour of the country, we decorated it with streamers, and we rode "Old Man Cheney" through the town, as a tribute to one whose luck was so colorfully had.

"Old Man Cheney" once owned the Prolific house and the sold it all for $100. Today, of course, it is one of the most valuable bits of land in summer resort America.

It must be admitted, however, that some of us pity the old gentleman more than seems necessary. His life has not been perceptibly shortened by depression. He allows he had a very good time with that $100!—American Magazine.

A large number turned out, and the afternoon was pleasantly spent.

English dairymen have provided a new manner of making livelivered for their preferential milkmen. They claim that the strains of milk while feeding will increase the producing capacity of any herd of cows, as well as enrich their milk. The country dance should become a national and popular pastime in England from this time on, as, by driving their cows to the dance hall, and allowing them to graze on the surrounding green, they will make a profit from their milk. In fact, the dairymen do not believe to make a mistake.

Byron B. Park Appointed Circuit Judge.

Byron B. Park of Stevens Point, was appointed last Wednesday by Governor McGovern to succeed the late Judge C. M. Webb as judge of the Seventh Judicial Circuit up to the spring election of 1912, at which time a vote will be taken for the unexpired term.

Byron B. Park, a native of Stevens Point, is recognized by all who have ever met him as an able lawyer, and well fitted for the responsible position which he has been called upon to take. Those who know him intimately recommend him highly as a conscientious, upright and efficient attorney.

The new appointee has practiced law in this circuit for thirty years, and during that time he has formed a large number of professional as well as personal acquaintances. The many friends of the new judge are well pleased over his appointment, and feel satisfied that he is the man for the place.

During the practice of his profession Mr. Park has been associated with many attorneys and has been retained in many well known cases in this circuit, both civil and criminal. In 1888 he was elected to the office of city attorney at Stevens Point, and the next year he was chosen mayor. Shortly after this he held the position of district attorney for a term of two years.

The record of Mr. Park's career as a lawyer is in itself an ideal recommendation, and his appointment was hailed with satisfaction by his friends.

Soo Will Divide Profits

Officers of the Soo Railway line have inaugurated a profit sharing plan to allow the employees of the road to buy land on installments that is declared by Minneapolis railroad men to be unique among the various departures over made by railroads of the country.

Land in Taylor, Price and Ashland counties is sold to any employee on a sixty day option. The employee pays $10 for the option on any number of acres he wishes to buy up to thirty. At the end of the sixty days the option is renewed on a second payment of $10, making the payment equal at $5 a month.

When one quarter of the whole purchase price has been paid on the option payments a land contract is given the employee of the road. This contract calls for the payment of the land at the rate of four payments a year, to be extended over as many years as the employee desires.

Better Method of Dragging Roads

B. F. McMillan, of Marshfield, is one man who believes in keeping up good roads at any cost, and as an evidence of this fact one has only to look at the road between Marshfield and the village of McMillan. The work was done by Mr. McMillan himself, and in a novel and time saving manner. A King road drag attached to the back of his automobile makes for him an efficient piece of machinery and with it he makes a practice of smoothing up the highway, not once, but many times a year to clear the road of ruts and holes.

Of course the King road drag can be worked without the aid of the auto, but this little incident is cited to show the efficiency of the machine, which is sold in Wood county by J. K. Merriam, agent.

Pittville Pleased with New Law

A new law, the result of a bill introduced by Assemblyman W. E. Wheelan at the last session of the state legislature, gives Pittville the privilege of having but one voting precinct for the three wards. This enactment means money saved for Pittville at each election, and in the last issue of the Record is a paragraph expressing gratitude for Mr. Wheelan's work in getting the bill through.

Marsh Mitchell and F. B. Woodworth were instrumental in petitioning Mr. Wheelan concerning the matter, and, according to their testimony, the law means hundreds of dollars' worth of economy.

Patients for New Asylum.

Marshfield Herald—The first installment of patients for Wood county's new insane asylum arrived Tuesday having been sent here from the Marshfield county asylum at Wausau. There were three middle aged women and twelve men ranging in age from 35 to 60 years. The entire lot of unfortunate are incurable. No difficulty was met with in transportation. They were accompanied by Superintendent Duncan and wife of the Marshfield county asylum and Superintendent Gilson of the local institution and Dr. Fred Wasmuth. The fifteen arrivals marks the beginning of the new home for these unfortunate. Mr. Gilson expects many more in the near future.

Your Breakfast Room Made Comfortable With Fuel Supplied the Night Before

Cole's Hot Blast Heater maintains a continuous fire—also a steady even heat. It will hold fire from Saturday night until Monday morning (48 hours) without attention. It will hold fire over night with less coal than any other stove.

Open the drafts in the morning and the rooms are quickly heated with the fuel put in the night before. No other stove does this.

Burns Soft Coal, Slack, Siftings, Hard Coal or Lignite. One ton of either kind of fuel goes further and gives you more comfort than two tons, using any other kind or make of stove.

Your attention is called to the unparalleled statement made by the manufacturer of

Cole's Hot Blast Heating Stove

"For several years we have authorized our Agents to sell Cole's Original Hot Blast Heater on the guarantee as follows:

- 1—A saving of one-third in fuel over any lower draft stove of the same size, with soft coal, slack or lignite.
- 2—That Cole's Hot Blast will use less hard coal for heating a given space than any base burner made with the same size fire pot.
- 3—That the room can be heated from one to two hours each morning with the soft coal or hard coal put in the stove the evening before.
- 4—That the stove will hold fire with soft coal from Saturday night until Monday morning.
- 5—A uniform heat day and night, with soft coal, hard coal or lignite.
- 6—That every stove will remain absolutely air-tight as long as used.
- 7—That the feed-door is and will remain secure and dust-proof.
- 8—That the Anti-Puffing Draft will prevent puffing.
- 9—All we ask is that the stove shall be operated according to directions and connected with a good flue.

(Signed) COLE MANUFACTURING CO., Inc. (Makers of the Original Patented Hot Blast Stove.)

This remarkable guarantee from the makers of this stove should be of interest to you if you contemplate buying a heating stove.

Years of use has proven that no heater—at twice the price—equals it for radiating heat, for holding fire, requiring so little attention, never giving trouble, and cutting down your coal bill one-third to one-half.

Come in and examine Cole's Original Hot Blast which is now imitated by nearly every other stove manufacturer. Price $12.00 and upward, according to size.

No other Heater Nearly as Good East Side.

Archie McMillan, who has been confined to his bed during the past two weeks with typhoid fever, is a trifle better. Mr. McMillan, while well along in years, has a good constitution, and it is expected that he will come out of his trouble all right.

—Ask your neighbor if she has heard of "Armor Plate Hosiery." Ask her about the service and long wear. Chances are she'll know for the whole town is beginning to find out the "Armor Plate" secret. At the Fair, west end of bridge.

Byron B. Park Appointed Circuit Judge.

Byron B. Park of Stevens Point, was appointed last Wednesday by Governor McGovern to succeed the late Judge C. M. Webb as judge of the Seventh Judicial Circuit up to the spring election of 1912, at which time a vote will be taken for the unexpired term.

Byron B. Park, a native of Stevens Point, is recognized by all who have ever met him as an able lawyer, and well fitted for the responsible position which he has been called upon to take. Those who know him intimately recommend him highly as a conscientious, upright, and efficient attorney.

The new appointee has practiced law in this circuit for thirty years, and during that time he has formed a large number of professional as well as personal acquaintances. The many friends of the new judge are well pleased over his appointment, and feel satisfied that he is the man for the place.

Your Breakfast Room Made Comfortable With Fuel Supplied the Night Before

Cole's Hot Blast Heater maintains a continuous fire—also a steady even heat. It will hold fire from Saturday night until Monday morning (48 hours) without attention. It will hold fire over night with less coal than any other stove.

Open the drafts in the morning and the rooms are quickly heated with the fuel put in the night before. No other stove does this.

Burns Soft Coal, Slack, Siftings, Hard Coal or Lignite. One ton of either kind of fuel goes further and gives you more comfort than two tons, using any other kind or make of stove.

Your attention is called to the unparalleled statement made by the manufacturer of

Cole's Hot Blast Heating Stove

"For several years we have authorized our Agents to sell Cole's Original Hot Blast Heater on the guarantee as follows:

- "1—A saving of one-third in fuel over any lower draft stove of the same size, with soft coal, slack or lignite.
- "2—That Cole's Hot Blast will use less hard coal for heating a given space than any base burner made with the same size fire pot.
- "3—That the rooms can be heated from one to two hours each morning with the soft coal or hard coal put in the stove the evening before.
- "4—That the stove will hold fire with soft coal from Saturday night until Monday morning.

"5—A uniform heat day and night, with soft coal, hard coal or lignite.

"6—That every stove will remain absolutely air-tight as long as used.

"7—That the feed-door is and will remain smoke and dust-proof.

"8—That the Anti-Puffing Draft will prevent puffing.

"All we ask is that the stove shall be operated according to directions and connected with a good flue.

This remarkable guarantee from the makers of this stove should be of interest to you if you contemplate buying a heating stove.

Years of use has proven that no heater—at twice the price—equals it for radiating heat, for holding fire, requiring so little attention, never giving trouble, and cutting down your coal bill one-third to one-half.

Come in and examine Cole's Original Hot Blast which is now imitated by nearly every other stove manufacturer. Price, $12.00 and upward, according to size.

INFLAMMATION AND PAIN

Cared by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

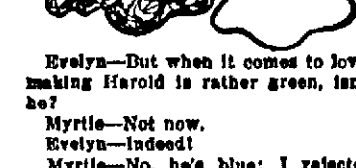

Oreston, Iowa.—"I was troubled for a long time with inflammation, pains in my side, sick headaches and nervousness. I had taken so many medicines that I was discouraged and thought I would never get well. A friend told me of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it restored me to health. I have no more pain, my nerves are stronger and I can do my own work. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cured me after everything else had failed, and I recommend it to other suffering women."—Mrs. Wm. H. H. 305 W. Howard St., Oreston, Iowa.

Thousands of unsolicited and genuine testimonials like the above prove the efficiency of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which is made exclusively from roots and herbs.

Women who suffer from those distressing ills should not lose sight of these facts and the ability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore their health.

If you want special advice write to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. She will treat your letter as strictly confidential. For 30 years she has been helping sick women in this way, free of charge. Don't hesitate—write at once.

Tuberculous Patients Neglected.

Out of more than 225 public hospitals for the insane, with a population of fully 150,000, only 70, or less than one-third, make any provision for their tuberculous inmates, and this, too, in spite of the fact that the percentage of deaths from this disease is very high among this class of patients. Such is the substance of a statement made recently by the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis. Seventy hospitals in 28 states, providing all told about 3,500 beds for tuberculous insane patients, sum up the provision made for this class of sufferers, although the percentage of deaths from tuberculosis among the insane ranges from 50 to 200 per cent. higher than among the general population.

Birds or a Feather.

"What's the bill for fixing my motor car?" asked the strange patron.

"It figures up to $110, sir," replies the garage man.

"What?" I'll have to give you a check. I left all my money in my drug store."

"Oh, in that case the bill will be a dollar and a quarter. We fellows ought to stand together."

Good Vacation Advice.

Bishop Scolding, on a hot summer morning, gave one of the congregations of Portland, Ore., a timely piece of advice.

"Don't," he said, "when you go off on your vacation, leave all your religion behind and take all your collection away with you."

Tuberculosis Among the Insane.

Autopsies made in New York state hospitals for the insane and elsewhere show that tuberculosis is an active disease in about twenty per cent. of the cases, as compared with about half that percentage in the normal population.

NOTES FROM MEADOWBROOK FARM

By William Pitt

Weeds can be kept under by frequent cultivation.

Clip off the tops of early celery plants in the seed bed.

The best chemical to use for killing Canada thistles is coarse salt.

Irregular feeding is sure to injure the calf and check its development.

The idle curry comb and the fat horse seldom live in the same barn.

Orchards in full bearing may be needed to grass and pastured with sheep.

The dairy cow is worth more than the best steer whatever way you look at her.

Cows do not enjoy being milked by one whose finger nails are long and sharp.

Whenever you discover a sheep limping along, catch him and examine his feet for rot.

Cantaloupes, watermelons and citron can only be profitably grown in a deep mellow loam soil.

By sowing a pinch of lettuce seed every ten days there will always be tender salad on the table.

The winter dairyman is the coming man, but he cannot afford to milk in a cold, dirty stable or barn.

Train the colt before he is six months old and you can control his disposition when he is older.

Breeding ewes should not be too fat; see that they are in a strong, healthy and vigorous condition.

Pick out the breed you like best and stick to it; study up everything you can about that particular breed.

Few dairymen realize the tremendous significance of the cream trade that has been developed during the past few years.

If you want to raise a good crop of hiccups and insects that will damage the sacred trees, let the weeds and grass lie thick on the ground.

Make weak places in the fences. Make one feel mean and it is provoking besides to have cows break into the field of a neighbor.

The cows should be milked in the barn during the summer, but the barn should be kept just as clean as it is in the winter time.

Keep the cultivator busy. Don't let the weeds get ahead of you. Remember that they use the plant food that should go into your crops.

Be sure that you furnish proper quarters for the farrowing sow. She can't afford to lose a single one of the little "squallers" this season.

Never give drugs to a horse any more than you would to a baby. Let him be downright sick. Shutting off his feed will cure all minor ills.

No cow can do her best or even keep up a normal flow of milk when compelled to stand out in the hot midday sun of August and fight the flies.

One of the most important things in running a dairy successfully is brains. Brains must be applied by every branch of work if the best profit is to follow.

The weak and wobbly fence is an invitation to the cattle to try the other side and it always works a hardship, especially so during the busy season of the year.

No farm should be without some sheep; they clean up the weeds, make fine fertilizers and wool, and produce lambs, all of which may be turned into a good profit.

Diversified farming is adapted to the man who does intensive thinking. The intensive thinker is always a success as a farmer or any other occupation where talents lead him.

The pig that has been supplied with an abundance of pasture and a small grain ration during the summer should weigh from 150 to 175 pounds by the latter part of September.

Early maturing pullets should be extra well fed; they are making growth as well as eggs, so don't stint them, and if they don't lay quite as soon as you think they should, remember that the food eaten is making flesh and bone, and that they will be better able than if they are to be precocious.

Duck eggs are in demand by confectioners, as they import a glaze to their icing, which cannot be had with hen's eggs. For making plum pudding, duck eggs are more economical than those of fowls, being both larger in size and richer.

Too many chicks in one yard, coop or brooder to themselves. Older chicks with example on and crowd out younger ones, and the ones last behind stand small show for feed, growth or even life. It is best to separate broods widely over the yard.

In grading up the chickens cull out the most vigorous.

Women are better fitted by nature than men for poultry keeping.

Not enough attention has been given to the character of seed corn.

The best fertilizer for asparagus is rotted manure from grain-fed horses.

Young trees must be carefully cultivated, kept clear of weeds and the soil loose and mellow.

To dispose of a crop at satisfactory prices is often a more difficult problem than to produce it.

The thermometer must be used as regularly in the dairy during the summer as during the winter.

If a soil lacks water some form of fertilizer is a positive detriment if they are present in abundance.

It is common sense that a mature sow will produce larger and more perfect pigs than a very young one.

Butter made in a sanitary dairy is always easier to keep than that which is made under poor conditions.

Don't let the buck run with the does when his breeding season is over, but confine him in a pen by himself.

Dairy-bred stock is scarce, and it will take many years to apply the rapidly increasing demand for dairy bred cattle.

Hens can be turned into cash the quickest of any farm crop, as it is possible to sell them in ninety days from planting.

Hogs will not thrive on sour and decomposed food any more than men will. See that they get fresh, clean water to drink.

Cabbage is one of the easiest vegetables to start from seed and to transplant and to be made to grow in the garden or field.

An incubator will not run itself any more than an automobile will. A but man's brain must be back of the best machine invented.

Women as a rule are more progressive and quicker to seize a new idea and put it into practice in the poultry yard than the sterner sex.

Plenty of cool ashes where the fowls can roll and scratch in them will settle the lice question, without the use of powder or liquid lice exterminators.

The fall fresh cow is the preferable cow and if you have not come to realize this, just try it this year and see if you will not be readily converted.

Sunshine is necessary in the milk house in the winter time, but just now all the shade that can be found will be acceptable. Trees and vines help.

The condition and appearance of the creamery should be the very best for this will have an influence on getting favorable market for the butter.

Spring is the natural time for young animals to be born and they do better, all other things being equal, when they are ushered into this world at that time of year.

It pays to supply the fowls, especially growing ones, with charcoal, ground bone, either fresh or dry; oyster and clam shells, and a continual supply of best grit.

A good way to avoid the credit system is to grow the living at home. It is usually possible to grow the most expensive, yet the most necessary, articles of food on the farm.

At our present rate of deforestation fuel and fencing materials will be very scarce within a few years. Plant waste lands in forest trees to supply the lumber required on the farm.

Arrange to save seed of the best varieties of potatoes, pumpkins, squashes and other garden products for next season's planting. Then you will be sure of plenty of good seed.

Many fall with sheep because they fail to keep the breeds that are best adapted to their farms and do not raise the kind that the market demands and is ready to pay the highest price for.

Save the droppings from the poultry house. Fertilizer of equal value, if bought on the market, will cost you $30 or more a ton. For the easier gathering and handling of this fertilizer, a platform of boards should be placed under the droppings.

The pig that has been supplied with an abundance of pasture and a small grain ration during the summer should weigh from 150 to 175 pounds by the latter part of September.

Early maturing pullets should be extra well fed; they are making growth as well as eggs, so don't stint them, and if they don't lay quite as soon as you think they should, remember that the food eaten is making flesh and bone, and that they will be better able than if they are to be precocious.

VIRGINIA IN THE CITY

By PHILIP KEAN

(Copyright, 1911, by Associated Literary Press.)

For hours the girl had walked through the city streets, hot, dusty, tired, hungry, she sought work, but could not find it.

Everywhere she was turned away. They wanted only those who had held similar positions, and Virginia, fresh from the country, could claim no knowledge which would be of use to her in town.

It seemed to her that the tall buildings on each side of the street frowned ominously. As evening came on she grew afraid. She hated to go back to the country, where she had paid a week's rent for a room. Dinner was out of the question, and she had had no breakfast or lunch.

It was with a gasp of relief, therefore, that she spoke to a boy who stood out from the corner under a street lamp.

"Why, Billy Locke," she said, "is it really you?"

"It sure is," he said heartily and grasped her hands. "But what on earth are you doing in town, Virginia?"

She told him her little story. The aunt with whom she had lived had died, and Virginia was unwilling to be a burden in the homes of outsiders.

"But I can't find work, Billy," she said.

"He was only twenty-one but he had a man's discernment of a woman's need of protection."

"You oughtn't to be running around these streets alone," he said gravely; "let me let me take you back to your boarding house right now."

"It isn't a boarding house," she informed him. "I just have a room there and take my meals out."

"Have you had your dinner?" he demanded.

She flushed. "No-o," she stammered.

"You come right in and have something to eat," he commanded.

She would let Billy order nothing for her but a glass of milk and some crusty rolls.

He urged upon her a more elaborate feast, but her independence made it impossible for her to accept too much of the boy who had been only a casual acquaintance in her home town.

"What are you doing?" she asked him. He had a fairly good position in the packing department of a big store.

"Some day I want to go back home and have a store of my own," he said. "I don't care much about living in the city."

"Have you had your dinner?" he demanded.

She flushed. "No—o," she stammered.

"You come right in and have something to eat," he commanded.

She would let Billy order nothing for her but a glass of milk and some crusty rolls. He urged upon her a more elaborate feast, but her independence made it impossible for her to accept too much of the boy who had been only a casual acquaintance in her home town.

"What are you doing?" she asked him. He had a fairly good position in the packing department of a big store.

"Some day, I want to go back home and have a store of my own," he said. "I don't care much about living in the city."

"It would be lovely here if I only had money," Virginia said, but Billy shook his head.

"It isn't any place for people like us. We are better off in small places."

Virginia did not dare tell him how homesick she had been.

"I have just got to find work," she said desperately. "I have eyes bright as steel, but I haven't been able to find it."

"How?" Billy demanded.

She pointed to a sign on the wall. "Waitress wanted,"

Billy, remembering her refined home surroundings, expostulated. "Oh, you wouldn't take a position here, would you?"

"But she did take it. There was a head waiter, a young man of some what sporty appearance, who passed her on, when she questioned him, to the woman at the desk. Arrangements were made for Virginia to come the next morning. Billy took her home promising to see her soon.

Every day after that he sat at the table where she served, and every day he begged her to let him write to his people and make arrangements for her to go home. "It makes me sick to see you here," he said.

"It doesn't," she told him. "We get good things to eat, and I have a comfortable room, and tomorrow I am going to buy myself a new dress and a hat."

SCENE OF SUCCESS

Where Grant Received His Commission as General.

Ironton, Mo.—Of all the events of the Civil war that are being recalled in the half-century anniversary revival of interest, few are of more general interest than the story of Gen. U. S. Grant's receiving his commission as Brigadier-General on Missouri soil.

A movement has been started to purchase the site at Ironton of the dwelling in which this commissioner for a national park.

The campaign which Gen. Grant planned at the cabin which was his first headquarters as general brought him advancement from Brigadier-General to Major-General and was the real beginning of his career as a victorious commander.

A graduate of West Point, who had seen service in the Mexican war, Grant had left the army because he could not support his family on his salary. He tried farming near St. Louis, became a real estate agent without much financial success, and in 1860 moved his family to Galena, Ill., where he became a clerk in his father's leather store.

At the outbreak of the Civil war he drilled a company organized at Galena and accompanied them to Springfield, when it was sworn in and incorporated into a regiment.

Gov. Yates obtained Grant's services as inspector of state troops to report to the government, and when President Lincoln issued the second call for volunteers Grant was sent to Mattson to muster in the regiment, of which he became colonel.

He has confessed that he was not confident of the outcome of his first skirmish, but he found his opposing officer had less confidence and had retreated before Grant and his men arrived. Grant said that the memory of that incident always gave him courage when preparing to make an attack or when in the thick of the fighting.

August 8 Grant arrived with his regiment at Ironton to relieve Col. B. Gratz Brown, who later became governor of Missouri and who was a vice-presidential candidate in 1872.

August 9, President Lincoln signed the commission of Brigadier-General Grant, and this fact was telegraphed from Washington to Ironton.

Grant was camped near a spring on the James Lindsay property, not far from the Iron County courthouse. When Lindsay learned that Grant had become a general, he moved Mrs. Lindsay and their babies to his farm near Pilot Knob and tendered his most cherished log home to Gen. Grant for his headquarters.

The offer was accepted and the Lindsay cabin became the first headquarters of Gen. Grant, although he spent a large part of his time sitting at an old pine table in the shade of an oak tree in the yard working out plans for a campaign.

While sitting in the shade of the oak tree, Grant received a letter from his regiment, which he had been notified by telegraph. August 30, Grant took leave of his regiment on the river campaign, which won his promotion to major-general of volunteers in February, 1862. His later achievements are history.

The Grant headquarters premises have been known for many years as "Emerson Park," the late Judge J. W. Emerson having acquired the property and erected a big brick residence on the site of the log house. In 1886 the surviving members of Gen. Grant's regiment erected a statue of a federal soldier to mark the spot where he received his commission.

The property is now owned by J. H. York, who maintains it as his residence, but a movement has been started to have the government purchase this property and the battlefields at Fort Davidson, a mile away, as National Park.

Mrs. Lindsay, whose humble home was Gen. Grant's first headquarters, lives in St. Louis, but visits the thrilling scenes of her young motherhood each summer.

Lindsay, who died several years ago, was a Union soldier and soldier in the Iron County Home Guards. He intimately knew all the surrounding country and did some valuable scouting for Gen. Grant, who rode over to the farm several times to see that all was well with Mrs. Lindsay and her babies during Lindsay's absence.

Disarmed by Lightning. Grove, Colo.—Mrs. Henrietta Wilson, living ten miles northwest of Grove, was struck by lightning and every stitch of her clothing and her shoes were torn from her body. The bolt melted the bowl of a spoon she was holding, leaving the handle in her grasp. Not a mark was made on her body. She was unconscious for some time.

U. S. Troops Lauded for Patrol. Washington, D. C.—Col. J. H. Dorst, commanding the Third United States Cavalry, has issued an order commending his regiment for their work in patrolling the Rio Grande border. Between Feb. 1 and June 30 they rode 119,000 miles along the American side of the river.

Two Squabs From One Egg. Little, Pa.—The great poultry center, "The Great Poultry Show," is now producing some odd "squabs" in that line, and the latest is two squabs from one egg.

A Commercial Failure. "Is that a success?" "No," replied the popular scientist. "He insists on spending his time staring through a telescope when he ought to be at a typewriter plunking out articles for the magazines."

A Preference. "I'd rather be a live rabbit than a dead lion," he said, after they had been sitting for long hours when the scientist was almost aspersive.

"Well," she replied, "you get your wish."

Several villagers were discussing a departed sister who had been given to good deeds but was rather too fond of dispensing sharp rebuffs.

"She was an excellent woman," said the deceased lady's pastor. "She was constantly in the house of the poor and the afflicted. In fact, she was the soul of the earth."

"She was more than that," remarked a villager. "She was the vinegar, the pepper and the mustard as well. She was a perfect crust of virtue."

Little Pitcher. Lady Visitor—I am coming to your mamma's company tomorrow, Tommy.

Tommy—Well, you won't get a good supper.

Tommy's Papa—Tommy, what do you mean, talking like that?

Tommy—Well, you know, pa, you told me you'd have to get some chicken feed for her old hen party tomorrow.

Stomach Blood and Liver Troubles

Much sickness starts with weak stomach, and consequent poor, impoverished blood. Nervous and pale people lack good, rich, red blood. Their stomachs need invigorating for, after all, a man can be no stronger than his stomach.

A remedy that makes the stomach strong and the liver active, makes rich red blood and overcomes and drives out disease-producing bacteria and cures a whole multitude of diseases.

Get rid of your Stomach Weakness and Liver Troubles by taking a course of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the Great Stomach, Liver and Blood Purifier and Blood Cleanser.

You can't afford to accept any medicine of unknown composition as a substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery," which is a medicine of known composition, having a complete list of ingredients in plain English on its bottle-wrap, same being attested as correct under oath.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate Stomach, Liver and Bowels.
